VIGIL BEGINS—The first of an expected throng of anti-capital punishment pickets appeared early today outside the gates of San Quentin Prison and were allowed to use a waiting shed to keep out of the cold. They vowed to stay until the execution of Paul E. Lavernge was carried out or called off. They left after Lavernge recevied a stay of execution. Witness Claims Shaw Plotted With Oswald

Garrison Unveils Surprise

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —A 25-year-old New Orleans man told a court hearing today he heard Clay L. Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie conspiring to kill President Kennedy in September of 1963.

Perry Russo, a former associate of Ferrie's, testified at a preliminary hearing on Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's accusations of conspiracy against Shaw that he heard the murder of Kennedy being discussed at a party in Ferrie's apartment.

Russo, a former student and now a Baton Rouge, La., insurance man, said Ferrie urged Shaw and Oswald to use "diversionary tactics" in any assassination attempt.

THREE JUDGES

The hearing by three district judges was held to determine whether Garrison has the evidence to hold Shaw, 54-year-old former managing director of the New Orleans International Trade Mart, for trial.

Russo said Ferrie told Shaw and Oswald that either two or three persons should be involved in an attempt on the president's life—One or two to create a diversion. The third man should be a "good shot," Russo quoted Ferrie.

FOUND DEAD

Ferrie, a former airline pilot, was found dead of a brain hemorrhage in his New Orleans apartment Feb. 22, a few days after Garrison mentioned him as a "major figure" in his probe.

Oswald, named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, was later shot to death by Dallas nightclub owner Jack Ruby.

Russo said Ferrie told the meeting, which Russo said occurred in "mid-September" of 1963, that one of the conspirators would have to be sacrificed.

RUSSO'S TALE

Under questioning from Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, Russo said Shaw listened to Ferrie's explanation during the first part of the discussion.

Russo said Ferrie reminded the group that he was a pilot and he thought it would be possible, in an escape, to fly to

MARINCELLO SHIFT ON SCHOOL SITES

Tam Board Declines High School Land; Sausalito Trustees Seek 'Park' Area

The Tamalpais High School District Board last night abandoned plans for a high school in Marincello, and the Sausalito School District Board, meeting at the same time, voted to seek the proposed high school site for an elementary school "educational park."

The vote by the Tamalpais board was 4-1; that by the Sausalito board was unanimous.

In voting to seek a high school site in Tennessee Valley, rather than accept the 30-acre site shown on the Marincello master plan, Tamalpais trustees agreed with County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker. He told the board projections on future development indicate Marincello will have a maximum of 618 high school students, while Tennessee Valley will have 1,292.

He said there are three possible 35-acre sites in Tennessee Valley.

Asst. Supt. Robert D. Torrey said one of the three sites "is a far better site for a high school" than that in Marincello. He said this site, on the southeast site of the junction of Tennessee Valley Road and the Marincello access road, would provide "more flat land, would cost less to develop," and is a beautiful area in which to locate a school.

Trustee Bette Wallace, the sole dissenter to trustee John C. Siemens' motion to notify the county planning commission that the district is not interested in the Marincello site, objected. She said the district was giving up a site in a fully planned, developed area for one in an area where "development and ownership are still debatable."

The Marincello master plan showed the 38-acre site for a high school and three 10-acre sites for elementary schools. Sausalito trustees, committed to the "educational park" concept as opposed to neighborhood schools, last night voted to seek the high school site instead.

Zucker appeared before them, also. He noted that the county planning commission is scheduled to adopt school sites in the Marincello master plan next Monday. And as he did at the Tamalpais High School District Board meeting, he urged the availability of three Tennessee Valley high school sites. In Sausalito, he referred to them as "fairly good" sites.

He told the Sausalito board that Marincello, by 1985, is expected to have 2,705 elementary school children and 951 in high school. (333 moer than the figure he gave the Tam District board).

In voting to ask for the 38-acre Marincello site, the Sausalito board said a second choice would be to double the size of a 10-acre elementary school site west of the proposed shopping mall in Marincello and acquire a 15-acre site on the Tennessee Valley side of Frouge Corp.'s planned Marincello development. However, they agreed separate schools would be contrary to the district's policy.

Beauty Shop Owner Dies; Wife Injured

The owner of a Mill Valley beauty shop was killed and his wife injured yesterday when their car rammed a skidding truck on a rain slick road east of Penngrove, Sonoma County.

Dead is Antone Peters, 66, of 15 Locust Avenue, Mill Valley, owner of the La Vern Beauty Shop. His wife, Ida Mae, 60, was reported in good condition today in Hillcrest Hospital, Petaluma, with bruises.

The California Highway Patrol in Santa Rosa said the accident happened at 3:45 p.m. on Old Adobe Road, about seven miles east of Penngrove.

A panel truck driven by Donald R. Lemmons, 23, Napa, was westbound when it skidded broadside across the road. Officers said Peters' car, going east slammed into the truck and careened into a ditch, ejecting the couple. The truck over-turned in the road.

Lemmons suffered minor injuries.

Peters was pronounced dead on arrival at Hillcrest Hospital.

A native of Nicasio, he lived most of his life in Mill Valley.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Davis Norton of Mill Valley and Mrs. Doris Jastrow of Petaluma; two sisters, Mrs. Edward Schimberg of Corte Madera and Mrs. Mary Lemos of Martinez, and six grandchildren.

Appeal To Supreme Court Blocks Gas Chamber Date

Action by a United States Supreme Court justice today staved off the execution of Paul E. Lavergne, which had been scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow in San Quentin Prison's long-idle gas chamber.

Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas granted the stay for Lavergne, a Black Muslim convicted of the 1965 murder of an Imperial Beach cab driver.

Anti-capital punishment pickets had already appeared at the prison gates — the first of a throng that prison authorities had expected to arrive before the hour set for Lavergne's death in the "little green room." It has been more than four years since a prisoner died of the lethal gas in that room.

Justice Douglas's stay of execution came on petition of LeRue Grim, Lavergne's attorney, after a series of rebuffs at the state level yesterday.

One of Lavergne's major hopes to stay alive collapsed yesterday as Gov. Ronald Reagan, a supporter of capital punishment, denied executive clemency. Earlier, the State Supreme Court twice refused the 23-year-old San Diegan executive clemency.

Reagan, in his first decision on a Death Row case since becoming governor, said he "found no basis on which to grant clemency" after a "careful review and consideration of all the facts in the case."

A clemency hearing was held by Reagan's office March 8. The governor made up his mind last night, several hours after returning from a visit with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at his Palm Desert winter residence.

Lavergne was condemned for the beating and strangling of Peter Giacolone, 25, a cab driver, on an. 7, 1965. An accomplice, Cecil Larry Watters, was tried separately for murder and sentenced to life imprisonment without chance of parole.

Reagan's statement pointed up the brutality of the crime:

"The victim's cries and moans as he was being beaten and kill-

Witness Says Dodd Had Free Funding Rein

WASHINGTON (AP) — A witness swore today that funds raised at a 1963 reception here for Sen. Thomas J. Dodd were for any purpose the Connecticut Democrat desired, even though the minutes of the organizing group didn't say so.

Sanford Bomstein, who operates the restaurant and night club here known as the Rocket Room, said that if the minutes of the DC Committee for Dodd were not worded that way, the intent nevertheless was to let the senator use the money as he pleased.

"Why didn't you say so?" asked Benjamin R. Fern, chief counsel of the Senate Ethics Committee which is looking into Dodd's finances.

"Because I guess I'm a little on the square side," Bomstein replied. "I'm not as astute as I should be. I'm an amateur.

His testimony brought out that he and James Gartland, Dodd's administrative assistant, were the only ones who attended the meeting at which the

Hilarita Housing Sale To Assist Marin City

The Marin County Board of Supervisors voted 4-1 today, with Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissenting, to use funds from the sale of the Hilarita housing property to assist in Marin City.

Kettenhofen argued that it was wrong to keep using money to enlarge an existing ghetto. He said the low-income housing effort should be scattered throughout the county. The Hilarita project is helping disperse the problem, he contended.

Donald O. Stuttsman, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, told supervisors that Hilarita must be closed to comply with state law by 1968, and even if it we retained, the buildings are substandard and would have to be replaced.

Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. of the housing authority emphasized that assistance is needed now to make Marin City a successfully integrated community. Ehrlich said the authority would put up $10,625 to finance hiring a director and part-time secretary for the Marin City Community Services District until the end of next January when the proposed Manzanita Recreation Center is to be completed, then would put up $37,250 to finance staff and buy equipment for the center for a full year. After that, the tax revenue for the CSD should be built up enough to take care of costs, he said.

These funds, and $173,250 the housing authority would put up to assist the Sausalito School District with its building program, would be drawn from the money expected from sale of the Hilarita property.

Supervisors earlier agreed to put up $210,000 toward school development, but there was no allocation in the county budget for this year.

Ehrlich told the board that earlier school plans have changed, and school district board last night announced a $3 million building program. Ehrlich said county and housing authority

Sausalito's Proposed Educational Park Price Tag—$3.4 Million

By PAUL PETERZELL

Sausalito School District's proposed "educational park" at Bayside School will cost at least $3,405,013, but it may not increase the district's property tax rate, trustees were told last night.

Architects Weisbach, Boutmy and Silver said that their cost estimates "represent a level of quality consistent with schools built under state aid." They said "a first-class school, with all that you want," would push the total to $3,745,140. Both estimates include inflation expected between now and a bid call in March, 1968, they said.

Savings in operation, maintenance and administration, combined with income from leasing Manzanita School site, would total $92,000 a year or $2,000 more than the average annual cost of repaying bonds to finance the "education park," claimed Trustee David E. Freedheim, chairman of the district's finance committee.

Freedheim reported that the committee recommended the district hold a bond election, perhaps next November, to bond the district up to its limit of $1.4 million. The district now has no bonded indebtedness.

Any unification would reduce Sausalito district's bonding capacity because it then would assume the indebtedness of the unified district, Freedheim warned.

Separate schools will be built in Marincello and Tennessee Valley, part of the district, when those areas develop, he said.

Funds already committed by other agencies for a new school, Freedheim reported, include $209,000 by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, $70,000 by the state, and $173,000 by the county housing authority. The authority has indicated its contribution could be raised to $300,000, he said. Sale of Richardson Bay and Central school sites should bring from $1.2 million to $2.3 million, he estimated.

Thus, funds from other agencies, revenue from sale of the two school sites, and funds from a $1.4 million bond issue should total from $3,052,000 to $4,279,000, Freedheim concluded.

Trustees, except Harold L. Sleight, approved the finance committee's report and made it clear they favored going ahead on plans for the "educational park."

Sleight objected, the plans were for too large a school that would cost "at least $4 mil-

Appellate Court Denies Powell Plea

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York State appellate court today refused to dissolve an order for the arrest of Adam Clayton Powell, and told the former congressman he must give himself peal. (See also story on page 2).

The court, by a 4-1 vote, let stand a lower court criminal contempt citation placing Powell in danger of arrest if he ends his Bimini stay and comes here on Palm Sunday to walk Harlem's streets, as he has promised.

Sun Is Temporary, Marin Due More Rainy Weather

Marin got its head above water today, but the Weather Bureau said the respite was only temporary. Another storm is forecast to dump rain on California tonight and tomorrow.

Skies cleared this morning after another siege of rain yesterday afternoon and night. Heaviest rainfall was reported at the Fairfax fire station, where 1.2 inches fell in the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today. Rainfall elsewhere varied from .15 of an inch at Novato to .85 of an inch at Sausalito.

More than eight feet of new snow buried the high Sierra, forcing some schools to close and delaying highway and rail travel. U. S. Highway 50 was closed part of today, but Interstate 80 and other major routes were open to vehicles with chains.

San Rafael had .28 of an inch of rain in the 24-hour period ending at noon today.

Other rainfall figures, for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today, were Civic Center .32, Manor Hill in Fairfax .7, Ross .44, Larkspur .7, Chevy Chase area of Larkspur .72, Hamilton Air Force Base .28, Belvedere .72, Terra Linda .31, Woodacre .49, Bolinas .50, Mill Valley .64 and Tamalpais Valley .64.

Powell Plans Return To Harlem On Sunday

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, who announced plans to return to New York Sunday, says if he is arrested the "people in Harlem" will not let him remain in jail.

He told a news conference yesterday he would "walk the streets of Harlem" and deliver a Palm Sunday sermon at his Abyssinian Baptist Church despite the threat of arrest on a contempt- of-court warrant. The warrant makes him liable to arrest any time he re-enters the state of New York.

A lawyer in the New York sheriff's office said, "We do not know now whether we would arrest Mr. Powell if he came into town Sunday, because arrests in civil cases are not usually made on Sundays."

Powell joined with Negro leaders in Harlem and across the country in hailing James H. Meredith's withdrawal as the Republican leaders' choice to oppose Powell in a special congressional election April 11.

"I didn't think a civil rights leader would allow himself to become a white man's puppet," Powell replied when asked why he thought Meredith had dropped out of the race.

Meredith told a news conference in New York that he pulled out because the Republicans had not delivered on promises of money to help finance his campaign.

Meredith would not say whether he would support Powell. He said only that the election was "bigger than Adam Clayton Powell."

America has a secret ballot, he said, and "I'll decide when I'm ready."

Meredith said he planned to stay in Republican politics, but he did not specify in what role.

He said only: "I intend to stay in the political arena of the city, the state and the nation, further to advance the principles in which I believe. I am certain that my efforts combined with those of the Republican party will enhance the dignity of the human race."

The order authorizing the arrest of Powell anytime he came into New York State was signed Nov. 28, 1966, by State Supreme Court Justice Arthur Markewich. So far as is known, Powell hasn't been in New York since.

Foster Home Plan

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday gave tentative approval to William Timmer for a foster home for six children at 359 Jean Street in Tamalpais Valley.

Senator Hints At Talk With Red Leaders

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, who has suggested a re-examination of U.S. policy of bombing North Vietnam, flew to Cambodia today and said he may talk with Viet Cong and North Vietnamese representatives there.

The Massachusetts Republican told newsmen as he left for Phnom Penh that if he meets the Communist representatives, it will be primarily to "study attitudes."

He also hopes to meet with the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, he said, adding: "There is a possibility that if there are representatives of the NFL (the National Liberation Front) and of the North there, I might talk with them."

Brooke, on a 17-day Asian fact-finding tour, again expressed a wish to visit North Vietnam but said the U.S. State Department has been "very discouraging and understandably so" about such a trip.

He said he had not asked Hanoi for an invitation and had received none. He said he would not go even if invited, however, if the trip would embarrass the U.S. government

White House, Kennedy's Aides Deny Battle Story

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson castigated Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., last month for his stance on Vietnam and told the senator his political career would end rapidly if he maintained the stance, Time magazine reports. Time says Kennedy called the President an s.o.b.

"He (Kennedy) did not call the President an s.o.b.," said two aides to Kennedy—Frank Mankewicz in Washington and Adam Walinksy, who was in Oklahoma City with the senator on a speaking engagement.

Kennedy could not be reached directly.

In Washington, White House press secretary George Christian said the version of the Johnson-Kennedy confrontation that has appeared in print in several more or less similar forms "doesn't accord with the memories of three people who were in that meeting."

Christian was not present. One participant, however, was Walt W. Rostow, Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs.

"There's not a word of truth in those quotations," Rostow said.

"There are substantial inaccuracies," said Mankewicz. "It (the Time account) is way off. There was a meeting Feb. 6 at the White House, it lasted 45 minutes but that's about it."

Time bases its account on the Feb. 6 meeting and said it lasted 45 minutes.

Asked if President Johnson castigated Kennedy at the meeting as reported by Time, Mankewicz replied: "I wasn't there, but I think not. The whole tone of the article is all wrong."

"The senator," continued Mankewicz, "got back from Europe and they talked about what happened. The senator told the President what he heard about Vietnam and the President gave him his views. They discussed it, and that's about it."

League Names New Officers

Carroll A. Snyker of Ross has been elected president of the newly formed Guide Dogs League of Marin, organized to assist Guide Dogs for the Blind to finance its program.

Other officers are J. R. Dimperio of Greenbrae, vice president; Mrs. Wilfred Wylie of Mill Valley, recording secretary; Mrs. Betty Dyson of San Rafael, corresponding secretary, and Robert Mize of Greenbrae, treasurer.

First event to be staged by the league will be a wine-tasting party at Peacock Gap April 19.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Prayer Plan

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"Project Prayer," an organization which seeks to nullify the 1963 U.S. Supreme Court decision banning Bible reading and prayer in public schools, already has about 3.5 million members, singer Pat Boone said yesterday.

Boone and entertainer Susan Seafort, co-chairmen of the group, told a news conference they hope to persuade 34 of the 50 state legislatures to endorse a voluntary prayer plan.

If 34 states agree, they said, they could force the calling of a constitutional convention by Congress to consider the plan.

Speech Is Off

MANILA (UPI) — While the Philippine House of Representatives debated the propriety of his visit, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban suddenly cancelled today his only speaking appearance.

Eban, who arrived Sunday and was met by picketing Mosiem students, had been scheduled to address a group of students at the University of the Philippines.

Anti-Death Pills

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Bills to repeal capital punishment for first offenders were introduced in both Houses of the Tennessee legislature yesterday. The measures would abolish the death penalty for persons convicted for the first time of rape, kidnaping, armed robbery and first-degree murder.

Nimitz Tribute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Swedish Navy paid tribute yesterday to the late Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, one of America's World War II leaders.

Capt. Lennart Lindgren, skipper of the Swedish minelayer Alvsanabben, placed a wreath of daffodils and iris at Nimitz' grave in Golden Gate Cemetery.

Polish Visit

WARSAW (UPI) — East German president Walter Ulbricht flew to Poland today to sign a friendship treaty with his Commuinst neighbors of Poland and Czechoslovakia. The pact was designed as a rebuff to West German overtures to East Europe.

Building Permits

The Corte Madera Building and Zoning department issued 29 building permits for building estimated at $39,000 during February.

Students Boycott Suharto Rally

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Student leaders boycotted a rally supporting acting President Suharto today, but the government brought out more than 50,000 persons to hear Jakarta's military commander, Maj. Gen. Amir Machmud, appeal for stability.

The student groups have agitated for months for removal of Sukarno's presidential title and for him to be put on trial for alleged complicity in the attempted Communist coup of Oct. 1, 1965.

Radio Jakarta announced today that a special Indonesian military court sentenced former Brig. Gen. Supardjo to death last night for his part in the coup attempt. Testimony during his trial closely linked Sukarno with Supardjo.

Congress wound up a five-day special session Sunday during which it divested Sukarno of his presidential powers, prohibited him from all political activity and named Gen. Suharto, the army strongman, acting president.

Sukarno spent the weekend at his palace in Bogor, 40 miles east of Jakarta. He was expected to return to the capital today.

Svetlana's Future Is Uncertain

GENEVA (UPI)—The favorite child of the late Soviet despot Josef Stalin hid somewhere in Switzerland today like thousands of humbler comrades who fled her father's terrorism of generation ago.

Mystery concealed Svetlana Stalina's future plans and her eventual country of permanent exile. Swiss officials said she would not go back to Russia nor remain in Switzerland after her three-month visa as a "private tourist" expires.

Had she defected while her father lived, it would have been hailed as a major cold war triumph for the West.

Today her flight has provoked embarrassment. The United States, where she would have liked to have gone, refused to accept her because of the current delicate balance in Washington-Moscow relations.

Svetlana, described by her son and daughter in Moscow as "moody," is a potential goldmine of information hitherto known only to a handful of Soviets inside the Kremlin walls. It is believed she harbors the true story of the death in 1953 of her father.

Thalidomide Makers Charged

AACHEN, Germany (AP)—Criminal charges were announced today against the makers of thalidomide the tranquilizing drug blamed for the birth of thousands of deformed children in many countries.

More than five years after the worldwide scandal over the effect of the drug on pregnant women, nine officers and scientists of the Chemie Gruenenthal pharmaceutical firm were accused formally of inflicting bodily injury and negligent manslaughter.

In about 20 countries, from Austria to the Philippines, an estimated 6,500 children were born with missing or maimed limbs or with other serious defects to women who reportedly took thalidomide during pregnancy. Several thousand more were believed to have been still-born.

Board Hikes Manzanita School Rent

Sausalito School District Board voted last night to hike by over 300 per cent the annual rent paid by the county for 14 classrooms at Manzanita School for its War on Poverty pre-school and child care center.

Trustees voted to increase the annual rent next school year from $437 to $1,500 for each classroom.

Currently about 100 children attend the program financed under the economic opportunity act with addition of state and county funds. About 75 per cent of the children live within the Sausalito School District.

William Perry, director of the program for the county, said the lease for next school year has not yet been signed, nor has assurance of federal funds for the project beyond this summer been received.

Sausalito School District trustees also:

WELFARE—Took no action on a proposal by Willard A. Hall, Sausalito recreation commissioner, that welfare recipients be drafted to help maintain schools. "We're already paying them," said Hall, "so they ought to come in for free."

TEACHERS — Hired Conrad Hoetger at $6,375 a year as teacher in the guidance learning center and Mary Ann Doman at $6,750 as a first grade teacher at Bayside School.

PORTABLE — Approved an $8,000 one-year lease with Designed Facilities Corp., Emeryville, for a portable classroom at Richardson Bay School for a demonstration mathematics project.

Zoo Is Aiding Space Science

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sea lion and a South American caiman are happily thrashing about the San Francisco Zoo unaware that they have been bugged.

It's for science.

Dr. Stuart MacKay, a leading authority on biotelemetry from Boston University, is conducting an experiment he hopes will lead to the elimination of at least some of astronauts' body-monitoring equipment.

He has fed tiny transmitters to the sea lion and the alligator and listens to their temperature signals 30 feet away on a receiver. The transmissions are in the form of beeps, which are counted to give body temperatures.

Independent Student Study Working Well

A program in independent study, allowing students to select and pursue topics that interest them, is being successfully started at Sir Frnacis Drake High School, trustees of Tamalpais High School District were told last night.

James Pierce, district director of instruction; Katherine Blickhahn, chairman of the Drake English depertment, and Duane Miller, a social studies teacher at Drake, reported on the program.

Pierce said it helps students learn how to study, to select their own topics for study, and to learn about themselves. He said the topics can cut across academic subject lines, and the students are allowed as much freedom as possible to study in their own way.

Mrs. Blickhahn said the progrm is in its third semester at Drake, and she has seven students working on projects. She said that once the student makes a committment to a project, he has opportunity to learn about himself by the way he fulfills the commitments.

She said the students help to develop their own methods and help in evaluating the course.

"Students are tradition bound. They are not used to asking question. They are used to having questions given to them, then they go and find the answer. Here they ask the question, find the answer and have the answer evaluated," Miller said.

"Teachers are tradition bound, too. They are concerned with controlling students. But the point of this program is to make the student responsible for his own education."

lion." Sleight, who is an architect, will leave the board when his term expires this spring.

Architects Weisbach, Boutmy and Silver, in their presentation of schematic drawings of a school for 1,250 pupils, envisioned building on three terraces at the upper end of the 13-acre site, with playing fields on the lower, flat portion. Access would be from Lincoln Drive, which would require purchase of three-fourths of an acre, estimated to cost $50,000.

Upper and lower grades would be separated by "social circulation" and cultural arts areas. Play areas also would separate upper and lower grades, with an area reserved for small children.

Construction could be completed in June 1969, the architects reported, if there were no "unforseeable events."

Trustees agreed to devote their next meeting, March 27, to a review of the plans. They also asked the architects to consider what portion of the school should be done first if it were built in two stages.

ASSIST

contributions will be vital in getting that builing program approved.

Supervisor John F. McInnis said he sympathized with Kettenhofen's stand, but it appeared that assistance for Marin City was vital and had to come withni the next few years.

The board learned that it will soon be asked to approve the federal scattered housing plan for low-rent families. Federal money will be used to supplement rental for about 300 families, Stuttsman said. This would help achieve the spread that Kettenhofen urged and would involve no county money, Stuttsman said.

Members of the board of supervisors and housing authority and redevelopment agency, meeting in joint session, also discussed briefly the possibility of redevelopment projects along the west shore of Richardson Bay and in Lomita Park Southeast of San Rafael.

Red Trawler Is Blown Up

SAIGON (AP)—A gun-running Red trawler, seeking to supply Communist forces by sea, ran aground and was blown up on a South Vietnamese beach today under pursuit by American warships.

Across the country, enemy forces supplied via the Ho Chi Minh trail, pressed a series of massive mortar attacks on elements of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier.

Field dispatches said the enemy, identified as North Vietnamese regulars, killed 11 Americans, wounded 113 and equipment in a half-dozen shellings through yesterday and today. Counterfire from American artillery, helicopters and planes was reported to have killed 29 of the North Vietnamese.

Whatever the immediate objective of the mortar attacks, the Communists have tried year after year to mass sufficient arms and men to strike across the highlands from the frontier to the sea and cut South Vietnam in two. They never have gotten far.

The Red trawler was a steel-hulled 100-footer, which ran aground about 100 miles south of the border between North and South Vietnam.

During the chase, it shot up a 50-foot U.S. Navy patrol boat.

Heavy weather again moved in over much of North Vietnam, limiting U.S. warplanes to 92 missions Monday. Most were against supply lines and rail targets in the southern coastal area.

Cash Box Opened, $2.50, Cards Taken

Thieves broke into the warehouse of San Rafael Van and Storage Co. at 470 DuBois Street, San Rafael, Friday night, and broke open a metal cash box to steal $2.50 in cash, three oil company credit cards, and title papers to a pickup truck owned by the company.

Police said entry was by prying a door at the rear of the building.

Fairfax Sets Closed-Door Session On Sumbardo Job

Fairfax City Council voted 4-1 last night to have a closed meeting to evaluate the performance of City Administrator David J. Sumbardo.

Councilman Frank J. Egger cast the lone dissenting vote on the motion by Councilman Robert R. Souza. No date was set for the closed session.

Souza contended that the session would be to "evaluate performance of employment" and thereby would be permitted by the Ralph M. Brown Act, governing closed meetings of public bodies.

"Employment is covered by the Brown Act," Souza said.

The Brown Act permits closed sessions "to consider the appointment, employment or dismissal" of a public officer or employee or "to hear complaints of charges" brought against them.

Souza said the closed session was no reflection on Sumbardo's work, but that Sumbardo has been on the job for two years and his work has not been evaluated. The session will not concern the salary of the city administrator, he said.

Souza's motion came after the council reached an item on the agenda to grant Sumbardo a salary step increase from $1,048 to $1,100 a month. He move to table the salary matter until after the closed session.

The council also opposed Assemblyman William T. Bagley's bill to tighten the Ralph M. Brown Act.

The bill specifies that meetings of committees or subcommittees of two or more members of a governing must be open to the public and advance notice be given.

The bill also would permit closed sessions to discuss litigation only when the agency is already a party to the litigation or public discussion would benefit a particular adversary so that the public interest would suffer.

Souza contended that the Brown Act should also apply to the state legislature.

The council adjourned last night to a closed session to discuss litigation in which the city is involved.

minutes were adopted "by the unanimous consent of the majority of the members of the DC Committee for Dodd."

The meeting was held at the Rocket Room Sept. 24, 1963, or nine days after the $100-per-person reception at which $12,804 was the net take.

Bomstein was the first witness as the bipartisan committee went into its second day of hearings on charges that Dodd used campaign funds for personal expenses.

The hearings got off to a fast start yesterday with the committee and the 59-year-old senator stipulating in a 162-page document to a mass of facts involved in fund-raising activities in his behalf between 1961 and 1965.

In addition to campaign contributions for Dodd's 1964 reelection race, there were a series of testimonial events. Dodd contends the proceeds from these were tax-free gifts he could legitimately use as he saw fit.

Figures in the stipulation indicated that $456,709 was raised altogether adn that Dodd deposited at least $150,000 of it in his own bank accounts.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., told reporters that "due to the sweeping nature of the stipulation," the hearings were moving rather rapidly and might be completed before Congress starts an Easter recess late next week.

With so many facts agreed to, Stennis said testimony will deal largely with explanations and the motives that prompted the testimonial dinners and other fund-raising events.

Mexico, refuel and fly on to Brazil of even Cuba.

However, Russo said Ferrie acknowledged there was risk in flying to Cuba because of possible hostile fire that might greet a strange incoming aircraft.

Russo said, Shaw said that once a shot was fired at the president the whole world would know about it and it might be dangerous to land in Mexico.

Russo's testimony dropped a bombshell into the proceedings, which previously had been concerned with routine testimony from policemen who had once arrested Oswald, or had photographed Ferrie's apartment.

Hub Youth Is Hurt In Crash

A 17-year-old San Anselmo youth was treated for face injuries and held overnight for observation at Kaiser Hospital in San Rafael after a two-car accident Sunday.

The youth, Donald H. Walker of 48 Woodside Avenue, was driver of a car which San Rafael police said struck the rear of a parked car on Octavia Street at 5:50 a.m. Sunday.

In the second car was Robert H. Baker, 45, of 339 D Street, San Rafael. He told police that Walked drove on after the accident, stopped, then drove on again.

Incendiary Prank Discovered Late

For some time, Jay J. Babcock of 1122 East Court Street, Novato, had noticed a copy of the Independent-Journal on his roof.

He thought nothing of it—until yesterday when the paper blew down. Noticing it had been blackened by fire, Babcock investigated and found three scorched shingles on his roof.

Pranksters had set the Feb. 20 issue ablaze and flung it onto the roof, it was concluded.

OBITUARIES

Musician Giulio Silva Dies At 90

Giulio Silva, internationally famed musican and head of the music department at Dominican College for 20 years, died last night in a local hospital after a short illness.

He was born Dec. 22, 1875 in Parma, Italy, and was honored at a reception of Bay Area musicians and friends at his home at 2058 Hatch Road, Novato, on his 90th birthday in 1965.

His father, Luigi Silva, was a writer and poet in Italy.

Silva attended the Academy of St. Celia in Rome where he received his doctor maestro degree in music composition. He was a professor in the National Conservatory in Parma, Italy, head of the voice department of Mariner College in New York from 1921 to 1926, teacher of voice and Gregory Chant in the San Francisco Conservatory of Music since 1926, associate professor and director of music at Dominican College in San Rafael for 20 years prior to his retirement in 1957. He continued as the Catholic chapel choir director at Hamilton Air Force base until his death.

He wrote many musical compositions and was the author of two books on singing and its teaching published in Italy before coming to this country. He had completed two books on Gregorian chant, now being published by the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C. He was still working on his writing and teaching private pupils until last Friday when he suffered a stroke.

GIULIO SILVA
Suffered stroke Friday

He was a member of the Academia Philharmonica Rome-American Musicological Society and the Medevial Academy of America.

His first wife, Rosina Mayz of Milan, Italy, died in 1926. His second wife, Evelina, survives him.

A son, Luigi Silva, famous cellist, died in 1961. Three other sons and two daughters Victor Silva of Carmel Valley, John F. Silva of Hinesville, Ga., and Carlo Silva of Monterey; Laura Minasian of San Francisco, and Maria Silva of Novato, a music teach in Novato. He also leaves 12 grandchildren.

GEORGIA CLAPHAM

Mrs. Georgia C. Clapham, mother of Rev. Robert Clapham, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo, died Sunday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 82.

Mrs. Clapham, widow of Simon P. Clapham, lived in Marin County 12 years. Born in Indiana, she resided for 29 years in Korea, where her husband worked as a mining engineer.

Survivors besides Rev. Clapham, who now lives in San Carlos, are a son, William of Whittier; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Stinett of Missouri, and seven grandchildren.

Family funeral is to be held at Sawtelle National Cemetery, Los Angeles.

ALICE T. HOBART

OAKLAND (AP) — Alice Tisdale Hobart, 85, author of Oil for the Lamps of China, died at her Oakland home today of a long illness.

Her husband, Earle Hobart, who survives, was an official in China for Standard Oil Co. of New York.

There will be no funeral services; no flowers.

JAMES JEFFRIES

James Joseph Jeffries, 58, of 7530 Redwood Highway, Novato, a retired industrial plant superintendent, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

He had been superintendent of the Barite division of Macco Corp. in Rosamond, San Bernardino County, for 30 years. He had lived in Novato for the past year.

Jeffries was a member of Francis Drake Lodge 376, Free and Accepted Masons of Palo Alto; California Commandery 40, Knights Templars; California Searchlight Chapter 133, Royal Arch Masons; Ruth Chapter, Order of Eastern Star; Al Malaikah Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of Los Angeles, and California Council 2, Royal and Select Masons.

He was a native of Fort Lee, N.J.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Ann Jeffries; a daughter, Mrs. Diane Kelly of Terra Linda; four grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Masonic funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Roller and Hapgood Mortuary in Palo Alto. Burial will be in Alta Mesa Cemetery, Los Altos.

Donations to the heart fund or Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in San Francisco would be appreciated by the family.

DEAN M. DE LA MONTANYA

Funeral for Dean M. De La Montanya Jr., of San Geronimo Valley, will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

De La Montanya, 35, died in an auto accident on the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road Sunday.

A native of San Rafael, he owned and operated the San Geronimo Milk and Ice Co for 12 years before going into the restaurant business. He was a veteran of the Marin Corps.

He is survived by his wife, Irene De La Montanya; three sons, Dennis, Steven and Eddie De La Montanya; a daughter, Denice De La Montanya; and his parents, Dean De La Montanya Sr. and Mildred Barrow De La Montanya.

GEORGE M. RENZ

George M. Renz, 71, died Sunday at the home of a cousin at 82 Alder Court, San Anselmo, after a long illness.

Renz, a retired marine oiler for Standard Oil Co., lived in El Cerrito most of his life. He was born in Michigan.

Survivors include a cousin, Mrs. Rae Gue, with whom he lived the past four months.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma, directed by Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

The California Buick:
For years Buick has been in California studying Californians.
You can buy a copy of their findings for under $3280.00*
When a Californian builds Buicks in California, he isn't likely to be thinking of the snow in Maine. So the birth of the California GS was a natural happening. We gave it plenty of power (a 340 cu. in. V-8 engine). We insisted on a Super Turbine automatic transmission as standard equipment. (This Buick invention does to long trips what California oranges do to breakfast.) We tailored a jaunty look by covering the top with black vinyl and the wheels with chrome. We gave it a tinted windshield. (We love the California sun, too, but . . .). Why don't you take a California GS on your next trip east?
*Manufacturer's suggested retail price including 340-4, 260 hp V-8 engine, Super Turbine transmission • air injector reactor • performance axle without positive traction (3.23 ratio) • Ride and handling option • Soft-ray tinted windshield • Chrome-plated wheels • Belt reveal and wheel opening molding • appearance group, deluxe steering wheel and carpeting front and rear • Custom vinyl top covering • rear quarter belt moldings and roof drip molding • GS ornamentation package. Also includes Federal Excise Tax, suggested delivery and handling charge and transportation charges. Other accessories and optional equipment, state and local taxes are additional.

Health Chief Queries Bruce Hiring Survey

County Administrator Alan Bruce yesterday announced plans for a survey of county health department staffing for next fiscal year, and said most staff additions proposed for the department should be held in abeyance pending conclusion of the study.

County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht, who asked addition of five and three-quarters positions at an additional cost of $51,162 next fiscal year, asked assurance that the study will be done and will "not be so superficial that it will be worthless."

Wallace Chipman, administrative assistant in the health department, told Bruce that a recent study on the department's clerical needs by one of the administrator's men was "completely superficial."

The exchange came during the first of several sessions on budget recommendations for next fiscal year.

Dr. Albrecht had asked a budget of $647,782 for her department, up from the $627,897 budgeted for this year. This year's figure was inflated by $48,463 for a county sewer study which will not be charged against the department next fiscal year.

Dr. Albrecht asked that a public health statistician, a principal sanitarian, a public health nurse, and a half-time public health educator be added to the staff.

Bruce complied with Dr. Albrecht's request to hire a half-time intermediate typist and put a full-time X-ray technician and a three-quarter-time public health nutritianist on regular hire. The positions had been covered this year in the extra hire account.

Bruce and Asst. Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said parenthood clinics should be cut back from the 16 a month budgeted this year to the nine a month actually put into operation. This would lower several figures in the budget request for next fiscal year.

Bruce and his staff will continue meeting with County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and other department heads through the month, reviewing budget requests.

Supervisors will start reviewing Bruce's budget recommendations in June.

Heart Surgery For Little Girl Fails To Save

TORONTO (AP) — Allyson Burleson of San Jose, Calif., the 5-year-old who came to Toronto to "play in the snow and have my heart fixed," died yesterday in the Hospital for Sick Children three months after her operation.

Her father, George Burleson, 32, and her mother, Frances, 30, were with her when she died.

A news conference was called today to discuss the failure of the operation, which transposed Allyson's aorta and the pulmonary artery so her body would get the oxygen it needed.

Allyson was a blue baby. Her condition was diagnosed when she was two months old but at that time doctors knew no corrective surgery. In 1963, Dr. William T. Mustard of Toronto worked out the surgical technique.

Allyson at 5 was considered the best physical condition to undergo the operation, which lasted nearly seven hours.

Sign Policy For Novato Is Postponed

Consideration of Novato's much-talked-about sign ordinance was postponed until March 27 by the Novato Planning Commission last night.

This ordinance has been bantered around for several months, with the planning staff and merchants disagreeing on regulations concerning existing signs and signs within store windows.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

CAR LOT — Granted L. J. Dervin Ford Co. a permit for a used car lot on the north side of Vallejo Avenue between First Street and Highway 101.

LOT SPLIT — Granted Kaheler Construction Co. permission to split two lots into three lots on Midway Boulevard.

REZONING — Set for March 27 hearing on rezoning from agricultural to commercial the northeast corner of Center Road and Diablo Avenue, asked by Kenneth E. Niles, and April 10 for hearing on rezoning from agricultural to light industrial one acre south of Entrada Drive at Norman Drive, asked by S. H. Cervantes Jr.

Guilty Plea Made On Check Charges

Richard Douglas Carey, 35, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to two counts of possession of checks with intent to defraud. Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled sentencing for 9:30 a.m April 10.

Carey had a $108 check Feb. 14, with intent to defraud F. S. Fleck Co. of San Francisco, and Safeway Stores, San Anselmo. He also had a $119 check March 1 to defraud the two firms.

Annual Music For Minors Series Is Set

The annual Music for Minors series will open April 1 with "Invitation to the Dance," to be performed by the apprentice group of Marin Civic Ballet and directed by Christine Walton and Jody White.

The series of three Saturday programs of music and dancing for children is sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin and the Marin County superintendent of schools. Each program will be presented twice, at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m., in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

The second program, April 15, will be scenes from the opera "Hansel and Gretel" by members of the College of Marin Opear Workshop. Third program will be "King Midas," performed by pupils of Marin County Day School.

Susan Hayden just moved to California from Milldale, Pa. Bag, baggage, boxes, beagle and bank account.

Back home there was a nice small bank. If anyone had a problem with his mortgage, or his taxes, or if he needed a loan to fix the roof, that's where he'd go. It was considered the best bank in town.

MILLDALE, PA.
POP. 1237 ELEV. 973

In Milldale's case, it was the only bank in town.

Now Susan has a choice to make. There are banks on every corner, so we'd like to say a few things about Crocker-Citizens.

We're a big bank. We've been in California for 96 years. We have more than 260 offices with over three billion dollars in deposits. And we offer at least 100 different banking services. But the biggest thing about us is we try to be nice to people.

If someone has a problem with his mortgage, or his taxes, or if he needs a loan to fix the roof, he knows he can come to us. Over a million Californians consider us the best bank in town. So we hope Susan will decide to bank with us. Because when it comes right down to it, there's very little difference between Crocker-Citizens and Milldale's friendly, helpful, considerate, small bank. Except for one thing.

We're a friendly, helpful, considerate, big bank.

JOHN B. MILLER
To speak in Marin

Area Toastmasters To Honor President

Toastmasters Club members from Marin and other north coast counties will honor International Toastmasters President John B. Miller of Nevada, Iowa, at lunch Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

An attorney and toastmaster for 17 years, Miller will speak on "Toastmastering and Your Community."

Co-hosting the event will be International Toastmasters Senior Vice President Lothar Salin and District 57 Governor Douglas K. McVae, both of San Rafael.

Before becoming president, Miller served terms as district governor in his home state of Iowa, was a member of the international board of directors and, last year, was senior vice president of Toastmasters International.

Judge Names Attorney For Black

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A federal court judge yesterday named an attorney to defend Carl M. Black, accused of embezzling $63,474 from the Painters Union Welfare Fund. Black said he was broke.

The Oakland accountant said he had not worked since his indictment on conspiracy charges in the murder of Painters Union official Dow Wilson. He was found innocent of conspiracy charges.

Judge Oliver J. Carter named George T. Davis and his associate Lynn S. Carman to defend Black on the embezzlement charges, to which he has pleaded innocent.

Davis said last week the assignment would cost him $20,000, an estimate apparently based on fees for cases he would be unable to accept during the Black case.

Property Exchange

A proposal by Trident Productions to exchange a portion of the former Puirty Store property at Bridgeway and Princess Street for city property will be considered today by Sausalito Planning Commission at 8 p.m. in city hall. The proposal would make more land available for a city park at the site.

Special Meeting On Swim Club

A special meeting of the Strawberry Recreation District Board has been called by chairman Clarence Bush for 8 p.m. tomorrow at Strawberry Point School.

Directors will discuss the lease for the Strawberry Swim Club, terminated by the district on March 5, claims subsequently filed with the district by the club, and the district's legal position in the matter.

A special election set for May 2 on a bond issue to finance dredging of Strawberry Channel will also be discussed, Bush said.

Group Asks Better Sex Education Program In Tam High District

A doctor, a minister and Mill Valley parents last night asked the Tamalpais High School District Board for a better sex and family life educational program in the district.

Kenneth T. Nelson, representing the Mill Valley Parent-Teacher Association Council, described new programs in sex education and asked for a "better co-ordinated, unified, modern" program.

"Sex education is something everyone will use all his life," Nelson noted. "General ignorance of sex has caused tremendous problems in our society. Disease, illegitimate pregnancies, broken homes and divorce can all result from ignorance."

He asked for a four-year program in the "physical, biological, sociological, economical and medical" facts of life.

Rev. D. Murray Hammond, a Mill Valley Episcopal minister, said that while the responsibility for sex and family life education should rest with parents, they have not been doing the job, as less than 10 per cent of the young people to whom he gives premarital counseling have had any education in sex from their parents.

Dr. Allan T. Moss, a Mill Valley gynecologist, said many of the premarital pregnancies in Marin occur "where girls have not been taught the facts of life and how to use them."

William B. Lewis, board chairman, said the district is trying to develop such a program. "We've had a couple of crusaders on this on the board over the years, including Dr. (John C.) Siemens," he said.

James L. Pierce, district director of instruction, said the district plans a seminar on sex education for science teachers to use in biological science courses. He said elective courses in sex and family life education will be started at Tamalpais and Redwood high schools next year.

Trustee Bette Wallace questioned whether sex education would not be "out of context" in a biological science course. She said the subject should be dealt with thoroughly to provide "sound mental health and sound relationships with other human beings."

Dr. Siemens suggested the district plan a workshop for teachers on the subject.

The board agreed that a citizen committee to study the district's building needs should have , should have 12 members, four from each of the district's high school attendance areas.

The board asked Asst. Supt. Robert D. Torrey to notify elementary school district boards and parent-teacher associations in the district that the board will welcome nominations to the committee, and will accept nominations from the public at large. The board agreed to appoint the committee members April 3.

The Tamalpais High School Dist. Board Also:

STUDENT GIFT — Accepted a set of 50 Zane Grey books from Richard Frakes, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School.

EARLY GRADUATION — Approved early graduation for Jose Turfa, a senior at Sir Francis Drake who has completed all requirments for graduation in three and one-half years.

Volunteers Still For Clean Up

Volunteers are still needed for Fairfax's second annual clean up, fix up campaign, City Administrator David J. Sumbardo said today. The campaign will be held in late May and early June.

Persons who wish to take part may call city hall by March 24, Sumbardo said.

Fairfax won a national waard for its 1966 campagin in competition with cities across the United States.

Drunken Driving Fines Given Out

Olaf Barney Nelson, 55, of 417 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, fined $250 and given five days in county jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving with a prior conviction.

California Highway Patrol arrested him last Wednesday on Highway 101.

Gerald Jerry Doody, 29, of Quebec, Canada, was fined $230 and placed on 30 days probation for drunken driving. San Rafael police arrested him on Francisco Boulevard on Sunday.

Elva Ann Schmolke, 49, Forest Knolls, was fined $115 and placed on six months probation for the same offense. She was arrested on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by the patrol, also on Sunday.

Film On Mint Set

"A trip through the Denver Mint" will be the film feature tomorrow at the monthly meeting of Marin Coin Club at 7:30 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley. Also on the agenda are an auction and a "swap bulletin board."

Only Two Show For Discussion

Only two of the five members of Santa Venetia Flood Control Advisory Board attended last night's meeting to discuss capital improvement and possibility of expanding the district to include all the watershed.

County Supervisor John F. McInnis, who attended the session, said expansion would be run into serious polictical difficulties and doubted it would be possible.

Drirectors attending were Ronald Shafer and Mary Evans. Absent were Trigve Larsen, F. D. Leach and Ray Krebsack.

Tam Trustees Quizzed On Drake Crowding

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night agreed to meet April 3 at Sir Francis Drake High School for discussion of double sessions at that school next term.

John A. Thompson Jr. father of a Drake student, suggested portable classrooms might be used to avoid double sessions.

Asst. Supt. Robert D. Torrey said a decision to go to an "extended schedule" at Drake had been made by Principal Harold Allison, but that Allison was still prepared to consider any alternative.

David D. Ring of Tiburon, a candidate for the high school district board in the April 18 election, said he understood that the actual growth expected at Drake next year "is really quite small, about 32" students.

He said he understood the real reason for the proposed schedule may be to reduce class size throughout the district. Such a decision should be made by the board of trustees, not the administration, he declared.

Mrs. Bette Wallace, a candidate for re-election to the board, said portable classrooms are already in use at Drake and the projected enrollment increase in the next four years is 200 students.

Chairman William B. Lewis stressed that no final decision has yet been made.

'Arsenic, Old Lace' Is Next Production

The senior class of Marin Catholic High School will present "Arsenic and Old Lace" at 8 p.m. April 7 and 8 at the high school auditorium.

Leading players include Kathy Earl, Dorothy Zonotti, Susan Palleschi, James Sylvestri, James Giovannoni and George Foster. Rev. David Petingile will direct.

Council Agenda Includes Pact

The Novato City Council's scheduled to award a contract for concrete work at Arroyo Avichi Park when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The council will discuss sending police to a special course at Northwestern University.

Other items on the agenda include an ordinance setting up city holidays, a report on litter control along south Novato Boulevard and Cambridge Street, and a request for a showcase for local Indian artifacts.

MRS. ROBERT MARRETT of Novato says she is happy her husband got "hooked" on collecting bottles, a hobby the entire family can enjoy. The whiskey flask Rita is holding was a Christmas gift to Robert and

Family 'Digs' Antique Remedy Bottles

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Specialization in hobbies as well as professions seems to be the thing these days and the Robert R. Marrett family of Novato is no exception — They are specializing in collecting certain types of bottles.

And like the question, "What does the postman do on his day off?" The Marretts on questioning, answer "Collect antique bottles of patent remedies." He's a sales respresentative for a pharmaceutical firm.

After five years as a pharmaceutical salesman and that many years of antique bottle collecting, the Marretts have 500 bottles — 450 of them old patent remedies and related pharmaceutical items.

The history of the parent remedies fascinated the Marretts and they have done a great deal of research including the history of the medicine man who toured the country claiming their patent remedies could cure almost anything.

THE GREAT show of the medicine man — which is now portrayed nearly accurately on television and the movies — said the Marretts — began with entertainment for the crowd and then the sale of the remedies.

The name of the remedy was patented, not the contents of the bitters, catarrh cures or ready reliefs — which contained up to 27 per cent alcohol. Bob Marrett Marrett said that 27 per cent is 54 proof, so those taking the various remedies would probably feel no pain after a few spoons of the alcohol and herbs.

Directions on the labels were given for both external and internal use. If the remedy didn't work on the outside one could always take it internally, the Marretts said.

AND WHEN the temperance movement came along, little old ladies could buy a bottle of the remedy as it was classified as a medicine for $1.00 and keep it under cover as they got "gassed up", Mr. Marrett said.

Names like Hostetter Stomach Bitters, Kickapoo Oil, Smith Bros. Catarrh Cure (which states that it cures catarrh (cold) of almost any part of the body) and Radways Ready Relief, line the shelves of the Marrett collection.

Then in 1906 the drug act was passed and the various companies making the remedies were required to list all the ingredients of the product as well as taking the word "cure" from the label, Marrett said.

The patent remedies are becoming a rarity and much to their dismay the Marretts said that some of the bottles of bitter are selling for as much as $70 to $80 a bottle to collectors.

IN 1941 the cork bottles with corks were condemned and cap bottles were ordered for drugs. In order to find any of these old bottles they must search old drug stores where an old time pharmacist might have stored them in the basement. "The younger pharmacist taking over an old drug store will simply dump them," said Marrett.

Nation's First Lady Drops Marinite A Thank You Note

By MOLLY MARIN

A letter just received from Lady Bird Johnson on White House stationery and hand signed by the First Lady is the proud possession of Mrs. Richard L. Parino of Mill Valley.

Someone sent the President's wife a clipping of the story and picture from the Dec. 29 Independent-Journal telling how Mill Valley, Marin City and Sausalito Girl Scouts scattered California golden poppy seeds on the Southern Marin hillsides, following Lady Bird's urgency of landscape beautification.

Mrs. Parino is chairman of the newly formed Richardson Bay Girl Scout association which includes Mill Valley, Sausalito, Belvedere, Tiburon and adjoining areas, and she was chairman for the seed planting project.

Her letter from the First Lady reads, "I am delighted to learn that the girls have scattered poppy seeds on the hillsides, for this is a lovely way to enhance the countryside. Please convey by appreciation and best wishes to all those involved in this project. Keep up the good work.—Lady Bird Johnson."

A LITTLE PRAISE . . .

MRS WINT F. SAINT of Sausalito will be hostess at a cocktail party for 60 guests Thursday preceding the Sausalito Woman's Club's Founders' Day luncheon and hi jinks. A cast party will be held afterwards at the home of Mrs. Chester V. Solberg, who is writing and directing the show. Following the low jinks party for members and husbands and escorts Saturday evening, Mrs. Harold Rogers will be hostess at a 1 a.m. breakfast.

DR .AND MRS. PAUL RICE of Mill Valley will entertain at a champagne luncheon on Easter Sunday morning honoring Dr. Rice's grandmother, Mrs. Paul Runyon of Corte Madera, on her 90th birthday. There will be some 20 guests, who are related and close friends. Mrs. Runyon lives with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Rice of Corte Madera. Her three grandsons are Leroy Rice of Kentfield, Lloyd Rice of Stockton and Dr. Rice, and she has six great-granchildren. Coming from San Mateo for the party will be Mrs. Runyon's niece, Mrs. Ralph McNutt.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

No Reason Why Ex-Steadies Should Not Be On Good Speaking Terms

DEAR HELEN:

I went steady with this guy for four months. I can sum up those months in these words: It was like standing one summer night and looking into the sky and seeing it all lit up with sparklers and fireworks. And then all of a sudden they fizzled out and I was left looking up into the lonely dark.

Now he won't even say "Hi." He's got a new girl and she's a doll. I'm glad for both of them, but I want at least to be friends. Why must a boy and girl be enemies when they part? —TO BE A FRIEND

DEAR TBF:

. . . Probably because his new girlfriend wants it that way. So long as you still carry a torch, she fears it may re-light those fireworks.

Let him know with off-hand friendliness there's nothing cooler than a burned-out sparkler—and prove it by dating other boys.

I see no reason why ex-steadies shouldn't be "Hi" on one another's lists. Snubs seem pretty juvenile. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a compulsive cheater. I've tried many times to quit but I can't. I go into class and say to myself, "I'm not going to look on anyone else's paper," but about half way through the test I get shaky and unsure. Then I fall back into my old habit. I've never been caught. Sometimes I wish I would. —HHU READER

DEAR READER:

You can't cure this habit until you change your attitude. Somewhere along the line you've been made to feel grades are your goal—not learning.

You cheat because you're afraid: Of letting down your parents? Of not making college? Of being inferior? I don't know, but of one thing I'm sure: you need counselling. Take your problem to an understanding teacher or wise adult friend, and I'm sure you'll uncover the real reason for your compulsion. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 16 and mature for my age. While at a luncheon engagement with my father, I met his boss, a man of 40 who is just fantastic. We talked of everything and had a great time. Well, my Dad got pretty loaded, so this man put on some music and we danced. Then he kissed me. It wasn't a fatherly kiss!

My father is no longer employed by this man but we still see each other and have such fun. He treats me with respect and told me he'd like to marry me sometime in the future.

Does he really love me, or what does he want? —DEEPLY INVOLVED

DEAR D.I.:

I could guess what he wants isn't marriage, but I'd only be guessing. Why not ask your father? And keep in mind this fascinating man is nearly three times your age—he'll be 60 when you're a young 36. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'd like to nominate the young people in our town for your Teen Boost of the Month. Words are empty shells when it comes to thanking them. My husband died recently. They helped me in every way they could: ran errands, worked around the house and yard, cheered me when I needed cheering badly, but never "crowded in." They were just "there" when I needed them.

They all chipped in and provided a beautiful floral wreath at the funeral, signed, "Your teenage friends."

No one dare say nothing to ME about modern young people unless it's good. They don't make them any better than ours! — RECENT WIDOW

DEAR HELEN:

Would you please re-print "WHAT IS A SERVICE MAN," and "WHAT IS AN AIRMAN," as I want to send copies to my friends? —ANNE

DEAR ANNE:

I have a better idea: inasmuch as so many have asked, I'll send free mimeographed copies to anyone who will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of this newspaper. —H.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR EASTER

San Francisco: Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga.

The Emporium Girdles: All seven Big E's

"HEY MOM and Dad, look what I found" six year old Danny Marrett, who joins in the family collecting hobby, seems to be telling his folks as he stands in the back yard of their home in Novato.

The beautiful green antique caper bottle was found in "Diggins" in Indian Valley, Novato. Among other drug related items in the Marrett collection is this cabinet of old fashioned Putnam dyes.

'DIGGING' FOR BOTTLES

"homeopathic specifics" in the Marrett collection were acquired from Webb and Rogers Drugs, the oldest existing drug store in the same location in San Rafael.

Several bright blue bottles with a raised design on the outside is in the Marrett collection. The raised design denotes bottles for poison. The reason for this being anyone reaching for these bottles in the middle of the night would know immediately that they contained poison, the Marretts said. The poison bottles also had stoppers on them that had a jagged top or serrated metal cap that would warn the person that poison was in the bottle. The Marretts suggested that this practice would not be a bad idea in modern pharmacy.

THE COLLECTORS of antique bottles are very reticent to give any information where they acquire their "finds" but the Marretts did say they go to "diggings" in the city when ground for a new building is being broken.

ONE OF BOB Marrett's favorite bottles, not drug related, is an old whisky flask which dates prior to the 1860s. Mrs. Marrett bought it as a Christmas present for him, and her contact who acquired the flask for her was Jack Slattery, announcer for the Art Linkletter Show.

Slattery is a member along with the Maretts and 1000 other families in California of the Antique Bottle Collectors Association of California who meet every June for a convention in Sacramento.

THE TECHNIQUE for making the old whisky flask, a commemorative one with an imprint of George Washington and Andrew Jackson, was used prior to 1860. The glass was blown into a mold. A small boy would then hold the bottom of the mould with glass rod. When the neck of the bottle was finally molded by hand by the glass blower the boy would break off the glass rod leaving what is known as a pontil mark at the bottom of the flask.

THE MARRETTS have four children, Michael 16, Thomas 14, Lisa Ann 12 and Daniel, 6 years of age. All the children are interested in collecting the bottles.

"Many of the old bottles are found in the early mining camps and settlements of the early West but it is difficult to get out to these areas over a weekend with a large family, Rita said, so they mostly "dig" in the Bay Area. They also spend hours of "digging" in the county library doing research on their hobby.

RITA SAYS many men play golf, go bowling or have hobbies away from the family, but she is happy that her husband got "hooked" on collecting bottles, one the entire family can enjoy.

Marrett, a sales representative for Warner-Chilcoot will be the guest speaker and discuss his hobby at the Marin County Pharmaceutical Association Auxiliary meeting to be held at Lin Fa Restaurant in Northgate on March 23.

Mrs. Henry Puccinelli is chairman for the program and luncheon to begin at 11:30 a.m., with a social hour and luncheon at noon.

At the annual Jinks, "The Memorettes," a group of women from Santa Rosa will entertain for members and their guests of the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club Friday at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Singing and dancing and stunts, interspersed with music from the "band" of pots and pans will be the entertainment.

The program will begin at 2 p.m., followed by a tea, headed by Mrs. Gustin Bergren. She will be assisted by Mesdames Milton Lipp, George Jones, Marshall Baldwin and Cecil Brous.

'Blueprint For Spring' Style Show

March 22 is the date for "Blueprint for Spring" fashion show and luncheon planned by Nova Albion School Association. The event will be at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael starting at 12:30 p.m., with a social hour at 11:30.

Spring fashions and wigs will be modeled by Mesdames John Reamer, George Bloom, Howard Harrington, Edward Kirley, William Miles, William Dunlavy, Roger Scherner and Roland Seaton.

Pamela Neel Married In Mill Valley

Pamela Kay Neel and Michael Hudson Teague, both of Mill Valley, were married Saturday morning in the Mill Valley Community Church.

Pamela is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Potter of Seattle. She wore a gown of white taffeta and her maid of honor, Jan Meyer of Mill Valley, was attired in a dress of olive green velvet.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Teague of Mill Valley, was his brother, Timothy Teague of Mill Valley. Robert Cain of Mill Valley showed guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parish hall of the church.

After a wedding trip to Mendocino County the couple will live in Great Lakes, Ill., where Michael is attending a gunners mate technician school of the U.S. Navy.

Pamela is a graduate of Redlands High School and attended the College of Marin. Her sisters are Mrs. Terry Loomis of Redlands, Ann Neel of Berkeley and Wendy, Cheri, Judy Potter of Seattle; her brothers are Bill Neel of Hawthorne and Michael Neel, who is serving with the U.S. Air Force.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin.

FOR A 'GAELIC GALA'

Health Officer Pleads For Stronger Family Standards

By BETTY FROST

"Today our children are long on freedom and short on the ability to handle it," said Dr. Patricia Hallinan, in a hard-hitting talk to 100 parents at a program sponsored by the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club at Del Mar School last night.

Dr. Hallinan, assistant public health officer for the Marin County Health Department, pleaded for stronger family standards in behavioral problems ranging from dress to drugs.

"When the United States was an agricultural society knowledge of the life cycle came easily," Dr. Hallinan said in developing the topic, "The Child and Today's Changing Values." "Now children are steeped in sex from television, movies, books, paper backs and the daily news. We confuse our children without informing them.

"The facts of human reproduction should be taught to children in doses scaled to their comprehension," Dr. Hallinan said. Many feel that sex education in the schools takes away the parent's privilege. The family must teach values, but few parents are emotionally equipped or well enough informed to give their children the sex education the woman doctor considers necessary. She favors well-planned courses "Beginning with white mice in kindergarten" to be given by schools, churches, or other reputable organizations.

INCREASE in illegitimate births, teen-age marriages, abortions, suicide and venereal disease were cited by the speaker as urgent current problems of youth. "The pill will prevent conception, but not venereal disease," said Dr. Hallinan, noting a 64 per cent increase in syphilis in Marin. "The youngest boy treated for venereal disease in San Francisco last year was 14," she said.

She blamed early dating, steady dating, too little supervision, too much money and the ready availability of liquor and narcotics for teen-age troubles.

"THERE IS not a high school and scarcely a grammar school in the county where marijuana and other narcotics are not available. LSD is one of the most dangerous drugs ever used. It is being sold at from 50 cents to $10.00 a capsule. The colorless, tasteless, odorless drug has serious psychological and physiological results. It is addictive, leading to increasing doses, and when taken away brings withdrawal symptoms. The effects vary from quiet contemplation to violence and panic. We must screen the parties that children attend and make every efforts to protect those who might be followers."

A question from the audience about the mode of dress at schools where extremely short skirts and heavy make-up are permitted, brought this admonishment from the public health official: "Have a little care in dressing your daughters. Girls are the progenitors of the race. They mature two years faster than boys, and they are so dangerous when all done up in passionate purple packages."

Dean's List

Suzanne Virginia Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cook, of San Rafael, has been named to the dean's list at Trinity University, San Antonio, for the fall semester. She is a senior majoring in deaf education.

Hi Jinks To Follow Club's Founders Day On Thursday

The Sausalito Woman's club will observe founders day Thursday with a luncheon at 1 p.m. followed its hi jinks.

President Mrs. George R. Chapman will be feted, sharing honors with past presidents and honorary members. Mrs. Conrad T. Kett, immediate past president, will officiate.

New members will serve the luncheon and be principal articipants in the hi jinks, which has been written and directed by Mrs. Chester V. Solberg, with musical assistance by Mrs. Frank E. Rossman. Mrs. Arie Slikkerveer is chairman, assisted by Mrs. George R. Kowski.

Mrs. Charles W. Henderson is luncheon chairman, and Mrs. John F. Churchill will decorate. At the door will be Mesdames King Hettrich and Clyde F. Trudell.

The low jinks, a repeat performance, will be held Saturday at 8:30 p.m. A double feature attraction will consist of the low jinks and the showing of color slides of jinks shows of 1958 and 1961 through 1966. Mrs. Willard, club photographer, is in charge of this event.

Co-chairmen are Mesdames George Eichmeyer and Walter Thomson. At the door will be Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Duggan and Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Fontana and Walter Lawrence.

Karol Britting Is Bride In Stewart Memorial Chapel

Stewart Mrmorial Chapel at the Dan Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, was the setting for the wedding of Karol Britting of San Rafael and Frederick Weesner of Los Altos on March. 5.

The Rev. Stanley Hiten officiated at the nuptials, for which the bride chose a Empire style gown of cream lace with skirt ending in a small train.

Her sister, Mrs. Vinaent McLorg of Monterey was the matron of honor, and the other attendants were Carol Cowdery of Greenbrae, Marjorie Weesner of Los Altos, sister of the bridegroom; and Toni Davis of San Rafael. They wore mint green organza over taffeta dresses.

J. Douglas Carlton of San Rafael was best man, and ushering were Charles Weesner of Red Bluff, Frederick's brother; Vincent McLorg of Nonterey and Thomas Komon of Britton, Mich.

A reception was given at the Presidio in San Francisco after the wedding.

The couple will live in Modesto.

Karol, a San Rafael High School and College of Marin graduate, has been employed with Joseph Magnin stores. She is the sister of Michael Britting of Tacoma, Wash., and Richard Britting of San Rafael. Mrs. William McKeown of San Rafael is her grandmother.

Mrs. Charles E. Weesner of Los Altos and the late Mr. Weesner are parents of the bridegroom, who also attended San Rafael High School and the College of Marin, as well as San Francisco State College. He is now serving with the U.S. Army at Tracy. Mrs. Cynthia Noble of Los Altos and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Rhodes of Livingston are his grandparents.

Welcoming Newcomers Is The Job Of New President

The new president of the Novato Newcomers Club, Mrs. George H. Klose, will be installed at a luncheon meeting tomorrow at the San Geronimo Country Club.

Lela Klose enjoys traveling with her husband, who is field service engineer for Warner and Swasey Co. She accompanies him on travels in the Western states and Canada.

"My home is my hobby, I play bridge, bake and knit and I'm extremely interested in gardening and flowers," the new president said.

She attended school in Cincinnati and lived in Whittier before moving to Marin three years ago. The Kloses have one son, Darryl, a sophomore at San Francisco State College.

Serving with Mrs. Klose are Mesdames Ronald Tashjian, vice president; W. T. Plummer, secretary; J.G. Schimmel, treasurer; Jeff Hemphill, parliamentarian; Kaye Dorsett, social chairman; Edwin Howell, reservations; Daniel Burke, activities; Daniel Lyons, program; Richard Brown, hospitality; James Duffey, membership, and Clyde Wrightsman, publicity.

Mrs. Richard Meeres will be the installing officer. A social hour at 11 a.m. will precede the noon luncheon.

MRS. GEORGE KLOSE

MUSEUM UNIT WILL HONOR VOLUNTEERS

A reception honoring volunteer workers for the Marin Museum Association will be held Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Civic Center. Co-Chairman of the event are Mrs. Elaine B. Guthrie and Mrs. Thomas Storer. Mrs. Storer, an artist in her own right, designed the invitations.

The members will have a preview of a new art exhibit of contemporary works which will be displayed especially for the occasion.

Honored will be Ethel Whipple who is chairman of the volunteers for the organization.

The purpose of the Marin Museum Association is to plan and work toward the building of a Marin Art Museum. At present a program of continuing art exhibits are held on the third floor foyer at the Marin Civic Center planned by the Marin Museum.

Redwood P-TA To See Films

"Narcotics and the Drug Problem" will be dealt with at a meeting tomorrow of the Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Two films will be shown: "Decision," showing a young person's progressive involvement with narcotics and the physical characteristics which identify a user; and "Molestead," showing the threatening situations to which girls are subject.

Gallinas P-TA Gives Honorary Life Membership

Gallinas Parent-Teacher Association has given an honorary life membership award to Mrs. Carl Pharis of San Rafael.

Mrs. Pharis has been active in local P-TA groups since 1961, when she and her family came to Marin. Mrs. Pharis and her husband Carl live in Northbridge with their daughters, Diane, Lee and Kay, students at Gallinas, Santa Venetia and Terra Linda high schools.

A past president of Gallinas P-TA, Mrs. Pharis is now legislation chairman for that group, a delegate to council from Santa Venetia P-TA, and hospitality chairman of the San Rafael P-TA council.

Her other activities also include service with Rainbow Girls, president of the San Rafael Rainbow Mothers Club, an active membership in Carousel, San Rafael branch of Marin General Hospital out-service organization, and work with Camp Fire Girls.

Public Concert Of Oratorio Palm Sunday

Dominican College of San Rafael will present a public concert of sacred music on Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the college campus.

The concert will feature "Christ Our Brother," a contemporary oratorio. The work, by Los Angeles composer Jolieta Smith, is dedicated to most Rev. Joseph T. MaGucken, archbishop of San Francisco. The Palm Sunday performance will be the norther California premiere of the Easter portion. The Christmas portion was performed in Angelico Hall last December for the National Council of Catholic Women.

Winifred Baker will conduct the Dominican College Chorale, assisted by a men's choir and soloists Byron Jones and John Gibb. Soprano soloists will include Jacqueline Brown, Denise Cronin, Elizabeth Heffernan, Jacqueline McDonald and Shireen Silva.

The Oratorio will be filmed in color by television station KPIX, Channel 5, for telecast on its Good Friday program.

Heart Specialist To Give Address

Dr. Chad H. Calland, San Rafael heart specialist, will speak on "Stress, Tension and Family Background in Heart Disease" today at 7:30 p.m. in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

This will be the last in a series of lectures on prevention of heart disease. Two short films, "Human Circulatory System," and "Guard Your Heart," will be shown.

ONE, TWO, THREE—KA-BOOMMM

Pajama-Clad Star Battles $25,000 Residence Blaze

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI)—Actress Elke Sommer, 26, dressed in pajamas and armed with a garden hose, helped put out a blaze that did $25,000 damage to the home she shares with her husband, Joe Hyams.

The German-born blonde and Hyams escaped the early morning fire yesterday by leaping out a second-story window to the garage roof and jumping onto a muddy embankment from the roof.

The fire burned out much of the first floor. It destroyed a collection of antique pewter mugs, furniture, paintings and other items.

Miss Sommer smashed a dining room window with her fist to allow her pet dogs, Hansi, a poodle, and Fritzla, a Dachshund, to escape. Then she used the garden hose to spray water into the dining room. She was treated later for a small cut on her hand.

"Surprisingly, Miss Sommer did a lot of good with the garden hose, because a lot of the fire was knocked down by the time we arrived," said Fire Chief L. E. Bush.

Vacation Films

Motion pictures for students on Easter vacation will be shown March 23 by Friends of the Larkspur Library. To be seen at 1:30 p.m. upstairs in Larkspur City Hall are "The Red Balloon," "Toccata for Toy Trains," and "Stars in Stripes."

Terra Linda Band To Play At Meeting

The Terra Linda High School band will play in the bi-annual Southwestern Conference of National Music Educators in Las Vegas, Nev., March 21-23.

Bands from California, Arizona, Utah and Hawaii were chosen on the basis of taped performances. Seventy-nine California bands competed for invitation to the conference, and the only one accepted from that list was that of Grossmont High School in San Diego County.

The Terra Linda band did not apply, but Dr. Edwin Creuth of San Francisco State College asked that it be invited to the conference anyhow, band director Gordon Lowe explained.

Members of the band will make the trip to Las Vegas at their own axpense.

Fairfax Council Votes To Keep Dance Policy

Golden Star Productions has been paying rent of $125 a dance and giving the city the net proceeds of every ninth dance under a contract that ends May 31. The park and recreation commission recommended that the city charge a rental of $175 a dance and eliminate the provision for the benefit dance.

Councilmen decided instead to offer Golden Star Promotions the same terms as heretofere for 13 Friday nights in June, July and August.

Richard P. Jones, recreation commission chairman, pointed out that the city got proceeds from one of the benefit dances, but nothing from another because there was a loss. He contended that the city should set a rental rather than having revenue tied into profits from every ninth dance.

Councilman George A. Pagni said that the dances provide someething for youth to do "and as long as the costs are taken care of, they should be given encouragement."

The council voted 3-2 to grant Martin M. and Blanche B. Corbett a special use permit for an antique and interior decorating shop at 1621 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The permit was granted on condition that the exterior wall be covered with fire resistant paint. Councilman Frank J. Egger and Mayor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. dissented.

The Fairfax Sity Council Also:

TENNIS COURTS — Approved plans and specifications for tennis courts on school district property at School Street and Park Road, and called for bids to be opened at 10 a.m. March 31. Cost is estimated at $14,000.

SHOPPING CENTER — Set for March 27 at 8 p.m. public hearing on rezoning of the Buon Gusto property on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from limited commercial to commercial for a shopping center. The planning commission denied the application by Paul D. Buchholz of San Rafael.

ITEMS BYPASSED—Because of the late hour bypassed action on an amendment to the animal control ordinance which would increase fees, an ordinance to annex the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. substation on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, a resolution setting up a method of electing a mayor and vice-mayor, a resolution on demolition of a building at 104 Tamalpais Road, and a report on a committee.

SCENIC ROAD — Received a letter from May Marquand of 68 Manzanita Road protesting the parking ban on Scenic Road.

RECREATION COMMISSION —Reappointed Roger Gaetjen of 21 Spring Lane to the park and recreation commission for a four-year term.

INTERN REJECTED — Rejected a proposal by City Administrator David J. Sumbardo to hire an intern to revise the business license ordinance and undertake other administrative tasks this summer at cost of $875. The vote was 4-1 with Councilman Adelaide Wilson dissenting. Councilmen Frank J. Egger and George A. Pagni were named to review the business license ordinance.

ROAD PROJECTS — Called for bids April 7 on Center Boulevard improvements and resurfacing of portions of Marinda Drive, Claus Drive, Taylor Drive, Center Boulevard, Pastori Avenue, Bolinas Road, and Frustuck Avenue.

JANITORIAL PAY—Approved a request by Figone Building Maintenance and Janitorial Service of San Rafael to increase its charges from $100 to $125 a month for cleaning city hall and police station.

SALARY INCREASE — Postponed until budget discussion a recommendation by Sumbardo that Mrs. Barbara Seiker, a part-time office clerk, be granted a pay increase from $2 to $2.25 an hour.

WAIVE LICENSE — Waived the license fee for the Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow Little League to operate a concession at the baseball park April 20 - July 10.

HEALTH INSURANCE — Renewed its agreement with West Coast Life for a health insurance plan for employees for the year starting April 1.

TWO-WAY RADIO — Authorized purchase of a two-way radio for police and fire department and civil defense at cost not to exceed $725.

STATE LEGISLATION — Opposed a bill which would make state standards mandatory for fire fighting personnel and remove local control of standards, and supported appropriation of state funds for the proposed Deer Park - Phoenix Lake regional park.

SENIOR CITIZENS — Agreed to consider matching county funds for a recreation program for senior citizens, up to $2,000, pending further study and budget review.

CLOSED MEETING — Adjourned to a closed session to discuss litigation in which the city is involved, and announced that the next regular session will be March 27 at 8 p.m. at the Fairfax Women's Club.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three rare Philippine Islands Batangas horses, at full growth only about half the size of a usual horse, have arrived from Hawaii consigned to the Frank Coit 3-C cantaloupe ranch at Firebaugh, near Fresno.

LBJ's Plans For Redwood Park Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., says the Johnson Administration proposal for a redwood national park was "far from the best park plan" which could be achieved.

Cohelan said yesterday the $60 million figure in the administration plan indicated a "problem of limited financial resources."

In the Mills Creek area recommended by the administration, Cohelan said he would suggest adding up to 7,000 acres of privately owned redwood forests to the Jedediah Smith State Park to form a northern unit of the national park.

"But I do not see how we can virtually ignore, as the administration does, the Redwood Creek and Los Man Creek drainages which the National Park Service itself, in its landmark 1964 report on the redwoods, declared contained the largest and most significant block of uncut virgin redwoods," Cohelan said.

He added that the proposal, despite apparent financial limits, was not "the best redwood national park that could be purchased for that amount of money."

Passenger Is Hurt In Crash On Highway 101

A passenger was injured Sunday on Highway 101, south of Diablo Avenue, Novato, when the car in which she was riding hit the rear of a parked trailer at 12:30 p.m.

California Highway Patrol reported Earnest Harkins, 47, of San Mateo braked for traffic ahead and his car slid into the center divider, then veered across the highway and hit the rear of a trailer being drawn by Ivan Paul Gilligan, 64, of Los Angeles, which was parked on the shoulder.

The passenger, Mrs. Josephine Abalyan, 65, of San Mateo, was treated for cut on scalp and right arm at Novato General Hospital and transferred to St. Francis Hospital in San Francisco, where she was reported in good condition today.

If a pay phone keeps your dime by mistake, we want to send it back.

Out of more than 114,000 coin phones in California, most of them work all the time. But occasionally, a part may go haywire and collect your dime in error. If it does, all you have to do is dial "0" for Operator from another phone and tell her that you've lost your money—she'll offer to complete your call and return your second dime, or if you prefer, arrange for a refund.

And we'll appreciate it if you'll give the Operator the number of the out-of-order phone so that she can report the trouble and get it fixed.

Here's How And Where To Contact Legislators

Our legislators are probably among the busiest in Sacramento and in Washington, and we do not wish on them an additional workload by encouraging their constituents to deluge them with letters.

However, we do receive frequent queries from readers asking for the names and addresses of Marin's representatives. If you have an important and timely message to convey, you can reach them as follows:

U.S. Senators—The Honorable Thomas H. Kuchel (or) The Honorable George L. Murphy, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20510.

Congressman—The Honorable Don H. Clausen, House Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20515.

Assemblyman — Honorable William T. Bagley, Assembly Post Office, State Capitol, Sacramento, Calif., 95825.

The above names and addresses and other hints on "Why, When and How to Write Your Legislator" are included in a pamphlet issued as a public service by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin, Post Office Box 2174, San Rafael, Calif. 94902.

Write when the matter is timely, and allow time for mail delivery.

Write when your legislator does something you approve. He needs your praises as well as your criticism.

Be brief and to the point. Write about only one issue in each letter. State your opinion and reasons. Identify a bill by number if possible.

Make your letter legible; type if possible.

Don't write to a legislator from another district just because you disagree with your own legislator. Letters to legislators in another district will almost always be referred back to your own legislator anyway.

The form-letter type of communication, mailed at the behest of a special interest group, is easily spotted and does not carry as much wegiht as spontaneous letters from individual constituents acting independently.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

"FORGETFUL" CAMERA DEVELOPED

The camera records pictures on a circular belt of phosphor-coated tape. It stores the images for a few minutes in a memory section, then erases them with infra-red light making the film re-usable.

If the camera is stopped, then any desired picture can be printed.

The camera's inventor conceived the idea as a means of improving his golf game by an instant slow-moving playback. The camera could also serve as a photographic record of a plane's last moments before a crash, or even of a bank holdup if stopped by a bank employee.

Unlike this movie camera, the human mind does not automatically "forget" even when it "forgives" a past injury. For this, a steady determination and the ever-present assistance of God's grace is a must.

Do your best to "let bygones be bygones."

"If you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father also will forgive you."

(Matthew 6:14)

Remind me, Jesus, that it is better to erase the memory of a past evil than to let it rankle within me.

Legislators Take 'So What?' Attitude On Tax Message

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Presentation of Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax program to the state legislature created no excitement at all around the state capitol. The general reaction was "so what?"

The governor seeks a bite of $865 million out of the pockets of California's citizens next year, which means consumers will be paying more money in the following fields:

SALES AND use tax, 1 per cent increase; liquor tax, 75 cents per gallon increase; cigarettes, three and one-half cents increase; cigars and smoking tobacco, 25 per cent increases; bank and corporation tax, 1 per cent increase; and personal income tax, increase from existing bracket structure, with maximum tax of 10 per cent.

All of which adds up to $865 million. Next year, he figures the bite will be even larger, jumping to $980 million, but without further increases.

But even with the increases proposed, which undoubtedly will take shape in final form in something like this proposed figure, it can't be said the new governor hasn't tried.

HE HAS FOUND, however, that the task of maintaining government in the style to which it is accustomed not only is unending, but virtually impossible of achievement.

At least, his efforts have resulted in a situation whereby even greater increases have been avoided. His attempts at budget economies, he says, have paid off to the extent of $123 million less expenditures for the next fiscal year. His tax message said:

"LAST JANUARY, I set a target for reducing the requested general fund appropriations for current support of state offices and operating agencies by an average of 10 per cent, plus proposing other reductions in both the general fund and special funds.

"An intensive review with departmental representatives to date indicates that a substantial part of this goal is attainable in most of their budgets.

"Although $55 million should be restored to the 1967-68 general fund budget as a result of these analyses, the economy drive will, in fact, produce an estimated $123 million savings for next year's general fund alone.

"This is the largest economy accomplished in the history of California state government."

THUS, IT MAY BE some consolation to Mr. John Q. Citizen to realize that his next year taxes won't be even larger than anticipated at the present time.

As usual, he's the loser in the little game of tap the taxpayers that's been going on around Sacramento for a long period of years. Past administrations have used up all surpluses and exercised all the so-called gimmicks available to raise money, as well as bonding the state virtually to capacity.

Legislators long have realized that the day of reckoning, predicted for some time, has arrived, and that the inevitable tax tap must go through in some form this year to avoid the penalty of bankruptcy.

Critics Of LBJ Likes Cartoon

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Congratulations on your cartoon showing LBJ as a bomber, but with the face of a dove, saying, "We are bombing to force peace." That sounds like a quote from Orwell's "1984."

Your editorial on censorship reveals also that perhaps you are beginning to see the light about the Vietnam war. "Even the supporters of the administration who tended to discount the critics begin to doubt the pronouncements coming out of various 'responsible' agencies in Washington," you say. To put that in less euphemistic language, even those who automatically believe everything their government tells them are now beginning to see that their government has been making a habit of lying to them. It's about time!

As a long-time critic, I would like to welcome a new-time critic to the ranks!

Consular Pact Approval Urged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A very important vote will come before the Senate in the next few weeks. Since 1959 we have negotiated with the Russians, and both sides finally signed a consular agreement in 1964. But the senate, moved by hysterical fear of being considered "not anti-Communist enough," failed to ratify the agreement. Last week the Foreign Relations Committee again overwhelmingly approved the document.

This treaty, initiated originally with the approval of Eisenhower and Nixon in 1959, is meant to improve international relations and protect U.S. citizens traveling in the Soviet Union.

Since the USSR already has over 450 employees with diplomatic immunity in New York and Washington, it would hardly overstrain the FBI to keep an eye on 10 or 15 more in Los Angeles or Chicago.

This treaty is a bridge to more peaceful international relations. It is a sane approach and a small step. I have urged my senators to vote for it, and to vote against crippling amendments.

Vietnam Peace Pledges Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The time has come for all good Republicans, independents, and Democrats to insist on 1968 candidates to make an honest attempt to achieve a negotiated peace in Vietnam.

There are plenty of potential candidates in both parties who have made such a pledge (Kennedy, Javits, Fulbright) or who seem ready to do so (Hatfield, Romney, McGovern, Percy).

We are being misled by the Johnson administration about the response of North Vietnam to the Oriental New Year truce. No evidence has been cited of North Vietnamese men or materiel moving into the South during the truce — but only toward it. Moreover, our military "conceded" to the London Times that some of the supplies could have been for civilians. Moreover, the U.S. admits sending troops and supplies to the South during the truce. Moreover, both sides retained the right to move supplies during the truce.

We are told there were 269 "incidents" during the truce but that only 89 were "significant." Moreover, the U.S. admits increasing "patrol and security activity" during the truce. Moreover, a number of the 89 incidents occurred when our forces were moving and the Viet Cong was dug in.

I do not say that all our war aims in Vietnam are dishonorable. I do not say that negotiating a just peace in Vietnam would be easy—any more than it was easy for the Eisenhower administration in Korea. I do say that the suffering of the Vietnamese people and our fighting men is intolerable, if it can be stopped honorably. I do say that the Johnson administration has been captured by hawks who seek "victory" rather than negotiation. Therefore Republicans, independents and Democrats must unite to rid ourselves of this hawkish administration. A good name for such a movement would be RID.

An Open Mind For Hirings

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the last meeting of the Corte Madera Town Councilmen, Councilman Holmes S. Norville was wondering why it should be so difficult to hire a fireman. It's really not difficult when you have two men who passed the written, oral, physical, and a doctor's examination. Only Councilman Harold Wagstaff would seem to make it difficult since neither man happened to be a volunteer from the Corte Madera Fire Department.

The next time the town of Corte Madera advertises for firemen I would suggest they limit the men taking the test to Corte Madera volunteers, since they plan on hiring their own men anyway. Or maybe they should make the written test easier so that they can pass.

No matter what — the taxpayers money has been wasted as well as the time of the men being tested since the council had planned to hire a volunteer in the first place as one of the firemen.

If the town of Corte Madera expects to get good personnel they should open their minds to all qualified persons.

Friendship Is Key To Survival

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The pithy expression — "Such friendship (international) is absolutely essential if mankind is to survive in this atomic age," that appeared in the editorial of the Independent-Journal, March 4, 1967, is important beyond human expression.

Is God dead? Do his watchmen sleep? Seems even the Country Parson, who appears before I-J readers, has no real message. His face does not shine as did Moses' when he came down from the Holy Mount. Rather, it seems like the face of a "Smart Alec."

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

THE LATE Kay Kendall, one English actress beloved by EVERYBODY who knew her, was awaiting her husband, Rex Harrison, in the lobby of the posh Claridge Hotel in London one day when a mature gentleman, who obviously rated himself as irresistible to women, made a series of verbal passes at her, despite her obvious lack of interest. Finally she ordered him at the top of her lungs, "Move on, my man, or I shall summon the manager." When everybody around her burst out laughing, Miss Kendall had a new thought. "Heavens," she gasped, "You AREN'T the manager by any chance?" The gent obviously had no official connection with the hotel because he vanished hastily in the direction of the bar.

CHARLOTTE B. Allen, of Honolulu, sent me a copy of "House Rules" posted on the inside of the door of every room in the Pioneer Inn, Maui, Hawaii, early in the 1900's:

15 Years Ago Consular Pact Would Have Been Unthinkable

WASHINGTON (AP) — One generation sweats so the next one may merely perspire. The words mean the same but one sounds nicer than the other, which is the story of American - Soviet relations.

Fifteen years ago what is happening in the Senate now would have been unthinkable. Joseph Stalin was alive then and here Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Redscare campaign was nearing its peak.

THE SENATE is debating and is expected to approve, despite some opposition, a treaty by which the United States and Soviet Union agree not to arrest each other's consular staffs when they are in each other's country.

And it is intended to give quick protection to American tourists traveling in the U.S.S.R. If one of them is arrested, American officials have to be notified within several days.

This kind of agreement may not seem much but the Johnson administration describes it as part of its effort to "build bridges" to the East. And some have been built, but slowly.

WHAT AMERICANS saw on the horizon in the Stalin-McCarthy era was a terrible sight: the twin shadows of two big Communist buddies, Moscow and Red China, which had been taken over in 1949.

Since no one could predict the American future in relation to those two giants, this country since then, and under four presidents, had to sweat it out, standing firm, hoping for a break, wishing common sense could prevent war.

In time, Soviet - Chinese relations went to pieces, with the Soviets growing jittery as China, her next-door neighbor, worked on nuclear weapons.

And in the process of this Communist disintegration, the United States and Soviet Union, both concerned about the unpredictable and more recently irresponsible Chinese, found it convenient to get a little closer together.

ANY USE OF "close" or "closer" to describe American-Soviet relations is a little ludicrous, since they are both harsh antagonists, but the last 15 years' ordeal has made them a little more sophisticated in dealing with each other.

With war still avoided as the years passed, both countries were able to do a little more business with each other, although each continues to act toward the other as if it had the plague.

There's no air-conditioning in foreign relations, which means if both sides sweat it out another 15 years or a generation, war between them may become unthinkable, which is not the case now.

They agreed on a cultural exchange in the late 1950s, after Stalin's death, and in 1959 signed a treaty about something way out and away from both of them, a kind of faltering first step.

THE TREATY involved Antarctica, setting it aside as a scientific laboratory, free from military activities like military bases, maneuvers, or weapons-testing. In short, it was to be used for peaceful purposes only.

The next step toward making relations a little more civilized came in 1963 with a treaty forbidding nuclear testing in the atmosphere, outer space, or under water, but not underground. Now comes the consular treaty.

And this week the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee began hearings on another treaty, this one to forbid the use of weapons of mass destruction in outer space, although what outer space is and where it begins was not defined.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Congress Wonders About OES Funding

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver and his lieutenants are spending millions trying to find out what is wrong with the widely controversial program—apparently with few tangible results.

According to the latest available official figures, as of June 30, 1966, the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the anti-poverty program, had spent $7,788,365 on scores of studies, analyses, assessments, inquiries and various other surveys — none of which appear to get at the real problems of poverty, such as training the unemployed and providing jobs for them.

This $7,788,365 expenditure was out of approximately $2.3 billion voted by Congress for OEO up to that date.

UNOFFICIAL and incomplete compilations for the current fiscal year indicate the rate of spending for this costly self-examination is running even greater. OEO's budget for this fiscal year is $1.612 billion —making a total of more than $3.9 billion since 1964 when this Great Society program was launched.

Very little is known publicly about this multi-million dollar aspect of OEO operations. OEO officials have said nothing about it, and the reports of these studies are not published.

Congressional authorities in charge of anti-poverty legislation only recently have begun digging into this matter. They are uncovering much pay-dirt.

FOREMOST among their findings is that a large percentage of these surveys and evaluations have all the earmarks of being boondoggles; funds dished out solely for the purpose of providing certain individuals, concerns, organizations and colleges with projects.

Also under congressional scrutiny are numerous costly studies with imposing titles but of no known value. Presumably reports were submitted to OEO, but few have reached the lawmakers.

ONE ORNATE report obtained by members of the House Labor and Education Committee, on an $82,522 "Analysis of Alternative Hypothetical Urban CAPs," has left them completely mystified.

It's a conglomeration of unintelligible jargon, baffling references and citations, incomprehensible tables, charts, formulas and graphs, and pages and pages of mathematical equations — which would take an Einstein to fathom.

Of the approximate 50 pages of the report, about the size of a telephone book, more than half consist of these bewildering hieroglyphics.

THERE will be another military pay raise this year — if the White House seeks a boost for civilian government employees. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the powerful Armed Services Committee, with its full backing, is prepared to vigorously press for a 4.5 per cent military pay hike if the President asks for a civilian increase.

Novato Can Settle Down Now, Center Issue Over

Well, now that the Novato City Council has settled the question of whether or not it will move the civic center, the city can sit back and relax. For weeks that has been the main topic of conversation up and down the business district.

The idea of moving the civic center started back when Robert Carrow was mayor. The master plan contained projections on it. Then the city council appointed a committee to study it. The city staff made studies of various proposed sites.

The first ideas were grandiose. Mayor Carrow envisioned a huge civic center complex with the city offices, branch county library, unified school district offices, North Marin County Water District offices, sanitary district offices, post office and federal offices all on one site.

THE FIRST of these to drop out was the water district, which constructed its office on its own corporation yard. The council asked the water district board to delay construction of its office pending the selection of a site. The board went ahead and constructed its own offices and has been in them for more than a year.

It is a good thing that it did, because after the field had been narrowed down to the school district and county branch library, the city council voted to remain where it is.

That was not exactly as the council wanted to vote, because earlier it had voted 4 to 1 to move it, with councilman Babe Silva the only one wanting to keep it where it was. It was the overwhelming majority of public opinion expressed by the petitions of the citizens and the results of the Junior Chamber of Commerce survey on moving the civic center that showed the council that they were on the wrong side of public opinion.

THE COUNCIL could see the handwriting on the wall if they defied 1,200 citizens. There were plans to carry an adverse vote of the council into a referendum vote of the people. It would have taken only 750 signatures to put it on the ballot, which would have been a long delaying process at best.

Councilman Douglas Merrill called it "legislation by intimidation," but we prefer to think of it as the people having the final say in their government. It was a plain case of the people rising up in their righteous anger and saying what would be. It was democracy at work.

It is just a shame that the state and national legislators cannot be subjected to the same expressions of the people. We imagine that the cost of government would come tumbling down as fast as the Walls of Jericho if such were possible.

THE CITY OF Novato is now looking at the expansion of the present civic center to the north. With the purchase of two lots there, it could close off the lane in between and have a sizable piece of property to work with.

Members of the crowd at that public hearing expressed a willingness to go out and work toward getting a police station constructed there. If that is done, the present size of the city complex of buildings could be adequate for 20 to 30 years if the city so desired.

That would give the city a breathing spell when it could do some of the other things such as fix its streets and drainage and install some sidewalks where they are badly needed. With all of these things done, then the residents would probably be more favorable to constructing a bigger civic center complex on another site.

AS IT WAS, in recent weeks, the feeling against moving the city hall had grown strong. People were proud of their city hall complex for such a new city and did not want to go into debt for another one. Then, too many people had just spent thousands of hours of volunteer labor refurbishing the community hall. They did not want to see all of this lost for larger, newer offices elsewhere in the city.

Now all this emotional stir can quiet down and the city council can settle down to other problems facing it.

New Wave Of Intellectuals Fouls Up Old Time Values

HISTORICALLY, old creeds go by the boards during troublous times, to be replaced by more modern dogmas. And, in the tenets of the New Intellectualism, we have what has become, de facto if not de jure, a state religion—and woe to unbelievers.

You may not be put physically on the rack by the current Torquemadas, but, once denounced by the faithful as a non-intellectual, you suffer excommunication from decent society.

For you come no invitations to the shindigs of the ADA, the glorious get-togethers of the Ripon Society, or the gay chowder festivals of the Citizens United for Peace.

TIME WAS WHEN such palpable religious discrimination could have been taken to the Supreme Court on the grounds that it violated the First Amendment of the superannuated Constitution. But that won't get you anywhere today, since the majority of that court (5 to 4) is now made up of devout New Intellectuals.

Having nothing to lose, then, I have no hesitation in saying that never has so much arrant flapdoodle been hawked by con men who pose as coming straight from Sinai. Whether you attribute the Ten Commandments to God or man, they do make common sense; whereas the new doctrines are conspicuously deficient in that respect. The fact that they are peddled by men with university degrees does not grant them immunity from the tests of reason and economic reality.

THEY HAVE MADE a veritable fetich of higher education, and we are asked to worship every communication from the academic world, whether it comes from half-baked freshmen or quarter-baked profs. Education is the be-all and end-all. Selah!

Well, maybe so, but what does education consist of? If I may enter into this Socratic dialogue, I suggest that a real education is one that prepares you for life and that a really educated mind keeps learning long after college.

Thus I would hold that the Eskimo father who trains his youngster how to fish and hunt and how to build an igloo is giving the lad a first-rate education. In such a community, a lad who spends four years mastering Sanskrit but can't paddle a kayak is a sure nominee for the relief rolls.

NOR DO I think that the sheer magic of college even in America is an automatic guarantee of a rich, full life. In my salad days, there was a gentleman who had attended the university for some 25 years and was still at it. It seems he had been left an annuity on condition that he continue with his education, and so he kept taking all the courses from A to Z.

He had a room in the dorms —and security. But that's all he ever had. He never published a book, wrote a poem, or dated a pretty gal, to anyone's knowledge—he just took courses. And if that wasn't a wasted life, what is?

Now I am probably the world's worst hunter and fisher, and I doubt any gal would have looked longingly at an igloo I had constructed. But, if I had to choose, I'd much rather be the Eskimo boy than the scholarly fossil.

APROPOS, LET ME offer a recent example of the workings of the "intellectual" mind. A professor at the Davis branch of the University of California had proudly announced that he gave credits of one to four points to activist students who took part in demonstrations. And Gov. Ronald Reagan suggested such "intellectual luxuries" might be dispensed with.

Whereupon the governor was sharply reproved in a stinging editorial in our liberal morning paper. The course, said the sheet, was one dealing with the history and tactics of non-violence, a movement which had reshaped the modern world, and it wasn't a bad idea for students to take such a course.

Logically, it would follow that there should be a study of political assassination, a procedure which has shaped history all through the ages. And the student who bumped off a political personage would then receive credits of from one to four points, depending, of course, on how important the politico was.

ME—I'LL still take the Eskimo.

Teacher Pay On Larkspur Board Agenda

The Larkspur School District Board will consider a 4 per cent pay increase request by the Larkspur Teachers Association, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the district office.

The board may call for bids on painting at Neil Cummins School and blacktopping at San Clemente School.

A bill before the state Senate to increase school district local control over curriculum, and a proposal of the California Teachers Association for a one-cent increase in tax for school financing will be considered.

The board will receive the resignations of Judy E. Alstrom, a fifth grade teacher at Larkspur-Corte Madera School, and John C. Ashman, a seventh grade teacher at Henry C. Hall School.

PLANNING SESSION ALMOST RIOTOUS

County Aide Nearly Calls For Deputies To Quell Tam Valley Master Plan Uproar

Residents of Tamalpais Valley joined in a noisy, three-hour session before a member of the Marin County planning department last night, protesting proposed zoning changes around the intersection of Shoreline Highway and Pinehill Road.

Werner Von Gundell, chief of current planning who conducted the session, said it was a disorderly meeting and he at one time considered calling for a sheriff's deputy to evict one man who was mimicking other speakers.

Instead, Von Gundell had the man assist in taking a poll of those attending the session, finding that most were in favor of a new master plan for Tamalpais Valley.

Von Gundell said the zone changes proposed by the planing staff, and already recommended to the planning commission, would bring uses more or less in line with those recommended in the 1959 master plan. This would be by reducing much of the apartment zoning to single-family and cutting back on the commercial zoning.

Those favoring a new master plan argued that it was thought in 1959 that Shoreline Highway would become a freeway, and said that evidently will not happen now.

Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club wants the uses further restricted, changing the multiple residential zone to single-family and doing away with commercial zoning.

Von Gundell said the majority at last night's session, however, wanted the present multiple zoning retained. There were about 50 persons at the session, and it was difficult to limit discussion to one person at a time, he reported.

When the matter goes back to the planning commission Monday, Von Gundell will reinstate the staff recommendation, saying that any master plan study could be done as an amendment to the earlier plan, not as a completely new study.

Hub Questions Result In Plenty Of Answers

"I wish you had sent two questionaires. My husband would have been able to fill one out intelligently, since he knows more about San Anselmo, but I got this one first and couldn't resist it."

Judging from the over-abundance of comment on the few San Anselmo town meeting questionnaires that have been returned so far, the questionnaire provides just the opportunity Hub residents, like the housewife who wrote the above preface to her remarks, have been waiting for to comment on their city.

Question: "What is San Anselmo's biggest problem as a city?"

Answers: "The empty stores on San Anselmo Avenue are depressing . . . high taxes . . . traffic — especially the Hub . . . slide area on Red Hill — an eyesore . . . no firm leadership — city council cannot run the city without on-the-spot strong administrator . . . it is not a city, never will be . . . dreadful planning commission, backward-looking council . . . too much money being spent . . . apathy of its citizens."

Question: "What do you think is San Anselmo's best feature?"

Answers: "Small town atmosphere . . . the charm of its natural setting . . . its pleasant, tree-shaded, meandering streets . . . the old town business strip on San Anselmo Avenue . . . rustic charm."

Question: "What does downtown San Anselmo need to attract more shoppers?"

Answers: "It's too late . . . better stores . . . modern stores . . . more variety . . . develop personality — a la Carmel! . . . larger stores . . . better buys, more selection, better parking . . . San Anselmo Avenue looks like a ghost town . . . development as a specialty center."

Of the 31 questionnaires so far returned, the majority rate fire and police service as excellent, street maintenance and lighting slightly below average, street cleaning average, garbage collection good, the library excellent, the school system and teachers good, city government average, and recreation facilities average.

Asked to name the area in Marin where they would most like to live, 11 named San Anselmo and 12 named other communities. Most felt San Anselmo "has more good points than bad."

The five most popular topics for panel discussions at a proposed town meeting were city taxes, downtown, city government, streets, and Highway 17.

About 5,000 of the questionnaires are being circulated this week by the San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress, the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, and the San Anselmo Homes Association. Friday is the deadline for returning the questionnaires, so the comments can be used to plan the town meeting April 29.

3,600 PENNY REVENGE

Both Sides Still Smiling After Traffic Fine Paid

A goateed artist had his revenge on "injustice" of traffic courts by paying a speeding fine in Marin Municipal Court yesterday with 3,600 pennies, but the clerks who counted the loose coins had a bit of revenge, themselves.

They made the "penny-picketing" violator, Paul Leroy Olsen, 24, stand by for an hour it took to count and recount the money. They also rejected three Canadian pennies they found in the pile.

Olsen had to fetch out another nickle, make change, and replace the three pennies.

But it was all done in good cheer.

Olsen of San Francisco was cited Dec. 18 by California Highway Patrol for speeding on Waldo Grade, Highway 101, on his motorcycle. He did not appear to pay the $13 fine within the limit of 11 days, according to the municipal clerk's records. He was sent a notice of appearance and informed that the fine with penalty was then $18.

His wife Emily paid the total by check Jan. 25, but Olsen, away in Los Angeles, returned, learned of the payment and stopped payment on the check.

On Feb. 20, however, he appeared in traffic court, and pleaded guilty. Judge Peter Allen Smith fined him $36.

Yesterday, Olsen went to Golden Gate National Bank in San Francisco and obtained the 3,600 pennies. He removed the coins from their paper rolls, placed them in a sack, and plunked the sack down on the municipal clerk's desk.

Woodacre Boy Darts Into Path Of Passing Car

A Woodacre boy suffered minor injuries yesterday when he ran in front of a school bus on Castlerock Road and was hit by a car.

California Highway Patrol reported that Kevin Adkins, 5, of 243 Railroad Avenue, Woodacre, a kindergarten pupil at Lagunitas School, ran when he saw his mother, Mrs. Patricia Adkins, parked across the street in the family car. He was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Shirley Eloise Phalen, 37, of 51 Rockridge Road, Woodacre, the patrol reported.

County firemen gave first aid to Keven. Mrs. Adkins reported the family doctor later took 10 stitches to repair cuts on the boy's nostrils and mouth.

Highway Patrol Officer Paul E. Zensius said the Lagunitas School District bus driver, Edwin Ernie, 52, of 1409 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, told him the flashing signal on the bus was operating while it was stopped. Passing a stopped school bus with light flashing is illegal.

Zoning On Agenda

Proposed rezoning from commercial to residential of parcels on Homestead and Almonte boulevards will be discussed by Almonte Improvement Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Almonte Hall. Also on the agenda are plans for a spring clean-up of the neighborhood, reported club president Herbert E. Davis.

Burglar Takes Diamond Rings

A highly selective burglar Sunday night stole two diamond rings valued at several thousand dollars and a man's gold wristwatch valued at several hundred dollars from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Boince Stewart Besson, 32 Loma Linda Road, San Rafael.

Police said the thief ransacked several rooms, but apparently took nothing else.

Station Wagon Stolen

Condemned Killer Gets Stay As Vigil Begins

ed were heard by persons nearby who called police. These persons, the trial disclosed, reported what they said sounded like laughter while the crime was committed."

Grim, of San Francisco, contends that Lavergne held such "deep mistrust and hatred" of white men that he was not mentally responsible for the killing.

Asst. Dist. Atty. T. Bruce Iredale of San Diego told the governor's clemency secretary that if Lavergne were spared it might give Black Muslims a license to kill whites.

The State Supreme Court, in two decisions yesterday, first denied Lavergne a stay to undergo psychiatric examination, then refused a stay for more time for a U.S. Supreme Court appeal.

Lavergne is one of 62 men of Death Row. The last person to die in the gas chamber was James A. Bentley, a small-time robber who was executed Jan. 23, 1963, for killing a liquor store owner during a holdup.

There have been 408 executions at San Quentin since 1893, 193 by gas. Before 1893, executions were carried out in the counties where the crimes were perpetrated.

Auto Thieves Strike Twice In Mill Valley

Theft of a red 1962 Triumph convertible, license CUH 585, was reported last night to Mill Valley police by Linda B. Haynes, 87 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito. Her car was stolen while parked at East Blithedale Avenue and Thalia Street, she said.

Arthur L. Hettinger, 28 Gomez Way, Mill Valley, reported yesterday that a $225 transmission was stolen Sunday night from his car while it was parked in the carport of his aprtment.

Hub Council May Interview

The San Anselmo City Council may interview a candidate for city administrator in closed session after the regular council meeting today at 8 p.m. in city hall, councilman Arthur W. Smith said today.

He said the council, meeting in closed session last night to continue review of applications, narrowed the choice to about five men, and decided to interview the five as soon as possible.

Tonight's closed session will depend on whether the candidate can be reached today, Smith said.

NO WAY TO HIDE THE 'EVIDENCE'

Two nine-year-old boys, playing with matches in a fireplace, decided they had best hide the evidence, so they took a vacuum cleaner, sucked up the ashes, and put the cleaner back in the closet.

The trouble was, according to Terra Linda Fire Chief George R. Walser, some of the ashes were still hot. The result was $75 damage to the vacuum cleaner plus additional smoke damage to the home of Robert Ross at 686 Barberry Lane, Terra Linda.

Knifing Case Set For April Trial

Jury trial for Arthur L. Richmond, San Quentin inmate aharged with illegal possession of a knife Jan. 2, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for the week of April 24.

Richmond is serving time for a crime against nature in Los Angeles County. Trial is expected to last three days.

Today is Tuesday, March 14, the 73rd day of 1967 with 292 to follow.

The moon is between the new stage and first quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evenings stars are Venus and Jupiter.

German-American physicist Albert Einstein was born on this day in 1879.

On this day in history:

In 1743, the first town meeting in America was held in Boston's Faneuil Hall.

In 1812, the U.S government authorized the issue of the first war bonds—in preparation for what we now call the War of 1812.

In 1964, a Dallas jury found Jack Ruby guilty of killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. Ruby was sentenced to die, but that sentence and the conviction before it were later overturned. Ruby was awaiting his second trial when he died in January of this year.

A thought for the day—American President Harry Truman said: "The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not to dominate the world."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Mathematics Teacher May Be Disliked For His Lessons

If you teach mathematics, your job is to make it easy for other people to count.

Ivar Stakgold, professor of mathematics at Northwestern University sometimes does his job at the bridge table, but somehow his opponents never thank him for the lesson.

Opening lead — ♣ 9

Declarer led the jack of hearts, losing a finesse to the king, and East returned the queen of spades to declarer's king.

MESSAGE PLAIN

Stakgold could easily tell that South had tricks to burn if he held both the queen and jack of diamonds.

The only hope was that East held a diamond honor, and it was up to West to "protect" his partner's high diamond.

Stakgold decided to let South know that there were four diamonds in the West hand.

COUNTS HAND

South took dummy's high hearts, and Stakgold carefully discarded two low spades. Declarer took his top clubs and the jack of hearts, whereupon Stakgold discarded a club. When South took the ace of spades, West threw another club.

With all hands reduced to four cards South knew that Stakgold held four diamonds.

It was easy for South to be sure of this because Stakgold had already discarded when spades and hearts were led, and he had already played all of his clubs.

ODDS 2 TO 1

Obviously, the "mathematically correct" play was to cash the queen of diamonds and then lead the low diamond to try a finesse with dummy's jack.

The odds were 2 to 1 that the contract could be made only by trying this finesse.

As it happened, the finesse lost and South was down three!

It's sad but true that you can't always trust a mathematician when he helps you to count.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one club, and partner has responded one heart.

The opponents pass throughout, and it is up to you again.

You hold:
♠ A K 8 3
♥ J 10 9 3
♦ Q 7
♣ A K Q

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four hearts.

You have 19 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, with good support for partner's major suit.

There should be a reasonable play for game even if partner has only 6 points in high cards and a weak 4-card heart suit.

Huge white doors open to this quiet, new, strikingly bold two story. Pace the COLONIAL SIZED living room and "discover" the den — an inviting fire crackling in the formal marble fireplace — or try the kitchen. NO HASTY PLANNING could create this style and convenience. Clever bar! Just inside the dining room for the formal evening, but just as useful for service to the HIGH CEILINGED family-game room (or the swimming pool beyond) . . . UPSTAIRS, four individually gracious bedrooms with stunning views (and notice the washer-dryer room there too — how thoughtful). SO, JULEPS ON THE PATIOS — looking thru Madrones and tall redwoods—not a house in sight (except the little ones spread out like a map in the valley below).

MARIN GENERAL HOSPITAL
SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA
RELOCATABLE ARCHIVES BUILDING
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the Board of Directors, Marin General Hospital, 250 Bon Air Road, San Rafael, California, until 4:00 p.m. Thursday, April 6, 1967, at which time they will be publicly opened and read in the Conference Room at said address, for the furnishing of all labor and materials for A RELOCATABLE ARCHIVES BUILDING at Marin General Hospital in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor and such addenda thereto as may be issued prior to bid opening date.

In general, this project comprises furnishing and installing a relocatable archives building of 32' x 40', including concrete foundations and ramps, light fixtures and internal wiring and air conditioning.

Bids will be entertained on a lump sum basis only.

Plans and specifications together with forms of proposal and Bidder's Bond, may be obtained by requesting them in writing or in person from the office of the Architect: Rex Whitaker Allen and Associates, 259 Geary Street, San Francisco, California, on or after March 20, 1967.

No bid will be considered unless it is made on the standard proposal form enclosed in the specifications. Each bidder must be licensed.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or to reject any or all bids.

Each bidder must deposit with his bid, security in the amount, form and subject to the conditions in the information for bidders. Attention of bidders is particularly called to the requirements as to conditions of employment to be observed and minimum wage rates to be paid under the contract.

Prevailing Wage Rates: Pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or to the local law thereto applicable, the Board of Directors of the Marin General Hospital has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed. The prevailing rates so determined and herein listed establishes the minimum hourly rates of wages which must be paid to each of the various crafts or classes of laborers and mechanics employed on this project. Any other trade not pecifically mentioned herein shall receive the prevailing wage generally prescribed for that particular craft or type of workman.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
No. 900622

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, March 28th, 1967 at the hour of 10:00 a.m. at 4th Street entrance to Courthouse at San Rafael, California TRANSAMERICA TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY, a California corporation, as present Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States, the following-described real property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

LOT 35, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Paradise Cay Map No. 1", filed June 12, 1959 in Book 10 of Maps at page 28, Marin County Records.

SAID SALE will be made to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by Alfred H. Cassidy, a single man, to Transamerica Title Insurance Company, a California corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of Isadore Gartenberg, a widower, and Jean Gartenberg, an unmarried woman, as Beneficiary, dated December 30th, 1965 and recorded January 4th, 1966 in Book 2014 of Official Records of Marin County at page 53.

THAT notice of breach of said obligation and election to sell said real property was recorded in the Office of the County Recorder of said Marin County on November 17th, 1966, in Book 2092 of Official Records at page 630.

THAT SAID SALE is made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, or as to insurability of title.

THE beneficiary or any other person or persons may purchase at said sale.

RELOCATABLE ARCHIVES BUILDING
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the Board of Directors, Marin General Hospital, 250 Bon Air Road, San Rafael, California, until 4:00 p.m. Thursday, April 6, 1967, at which time they will be publicly opened and read in the Conference Room at said address, for the furnishing of all labor and materials for A RELOCATABLE ARCHIVES BUILDING at Marin General Hospital in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor and such addenda thereto as may be issued prior to bid opening date.

In general, this project comprises furnishing and installing a relocatable archives building of 32' x 40', including concrete foundations and ramps, light fixtures and internal wiring and air conditioning.

Bids will be entertained on a lump sum basis only.

Plans and specifications together with forms of proposal and Bidder's Bond, may be obtained by requesting them in writing or in person from the office of the Architect: Rex Whitaker Allen and Associates, 259 Geary Street, San Francisco, California, on or after March 20, 1967.

No bid will be considered unless it is made on the standard proposal form enclosed in the specifications. Each bidder must be licensed.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or to reject any or all bids.

Each bidder must deposit with his bid, security in the amount, form and subject to the conditions in the information for bidders. Attention of bidders is particularly called to the requirements as to conditions of employment to be observed and minimum wage rates to be paid under the contract.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within 30 days after the actual date of the opening thereof.

Prevailing Wage Rates: Pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or to the local law thereto applicable, the Board of Directors of the Marin General Hospital has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed. The prevailing rates so determined and herein listed establishes the minimum hourly rates of wages which must be paid to each of the various crafts or classes of laborers and mechanics employed on this project. Any other trade not pecifically mentioned herein shall receive the prevailing wage generally prescribed for that particular craft or type of workman.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Mathematics Teacher May Be Disliked For His Lessons

If you teach mathematics, your job is to make it easy for other people to count.

Ivar Stakgold, professor of mathematics at Northwestern University sometimes does his job at the bridge table, but somehow his opponents never thank him for the lesson.

Opening lead — ♣ 9

Declarer led the jack of hearts, losing a finesse to the king, and East returned the queen of spades to declarer's king.

MESSAGE PLAIN

Stakgold could easily tell that South had tricks to burn if he held both the queen and jack of diamonds.

The only hope was that East held a diamond honor, and it was up to West to "protect" his partner's high diamond.

Stakgold decided to let South know that there were four diamonds in the West hand.

COUNTS HAND

South took dummy's high hearts, and Stakgold carefully discarded two low spades. Declarer took his top clubs and the jack of hearts, whereupon Stakgold discarded a club. When South took the ace of spades, West threw another club.

With all hands reduced to four cards South knew that Stakgold held four diamonds.

It was easy for South to be sure of this because Stakgold had already discarded when spades and hearts were led, and he had already played all of his clubs.

ODDS 2 TO 1

Obviously, the "mathematically correct" play was to cash the queen of diamonds and then lead the low diamond to try a finesse with dummy's jack.

The odds were 2 to 1 that the contract could be made only by trying this finesse.

As it happened, the finesse lost and South was down three!

It's sad but true that you can't always trust a mathematician when he helps you to count.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one club, and partner has responded one heart.

The opponents pass throughout, and it is up to you again.

You hold:
♠ A K 8 3
♥ J 10 9 3
♦ Q 7
♣ A K Q

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four hearts.

You have 19 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, with good support for partner's major suit.

There should be a reasonable play for game even if partner has only 6 points in high cards and a weak 4-card heart suit.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, March 14, the 73rd day of 1967 with 292 to follow.

The moon is between the new stage and first quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evenings stars are Venus and Jupiter.

German-American physicist Albert Einstein was born on this day in 1879.

On this day in history:

In 1743, the first town meeting in America was held in Boston's Faneuil Hall.

In 1812, the U.S government authorized the issue of the first war bonds—in preparation for what we now call the War of 1812.

In 1964, a Dallas jury found Jack Ruby guilty of killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. Ruby was sentenced to die, but that sentence and the conviction before it were later overturned. Ruby was awaiting his second trial when he died in January of this year.

A thought for the day—American President Harry Truman said: "The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not to dominate the world."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

TELEVISION REVIEW

Daylight Time Vs. Early Shows

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —With the trend toward seasonal daylight time growing more uniform, some network television executives feel it may well mean at least a slight drop in viewing of early evening shows.

Daylight time, of course, means an extra hour of daylight, and the effect on early evening television viewing is therefore self-explanatory.

DEFINITE TREND

The fact that there has been a definite trend toward daylight time is emphasized by a Congressional measure arranging dates for its start around the nation. State legislatures can vote to stay on standard time, but hardly any are expected to.

Even if there is a bit of a drop in early evening viewing, most network executives are probably more than satisfied with the daylight trend, and for a good financial reason.

For the logistics of "feeding" programs to separate daylight and standard time zones — amounting to virtual parallel networks within networks —is costly. Uniformity is therefore favored by video.

WELL PROVED

The effect of daylight time on early evening viewing is pretty well proved by past experience with summer season television. One network spokesman gives the following typical example:

"Take a series like 'Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea,' which begins at 7 p.m. in the East and West. In wintertime, this is after the sun has set, and the audience, which is comprised heavily of boys and teenage boys, is already in the house. But in the other seasons, they tend to be out."

Then there is a related type of experience in the central time zone, which shows programs an hour earlier the year around.

This early evening viewing problem is typified in a way by Red Skelton's dilemma of several years ago, when his series was moved back from an 8:30 to 8 p.m. start in the East and West —which meant a 7 p.m. start in the central zone. Skelton felt certain viewers were not settled down before the set at this hour, and that his ratings were in jeopardy. He was shifted back to 8:30 and has been very high in the ratings ever since, finishing No. 1 last week.

MANY REASONS

There are many reasons why viewers watch television less in the summer, and of course the smaller audience is a factor in causing the networks to offer so many reruns. But these reruns are especially dominant in the early evening hours most affected by daylight time, and one reason for this is the networks' attempt to amortize their costs because of the smaller audience — which means lower charges for advertising rates. A network spokesman notes:

"This summer, for instance, we will have a new variety series subbing for the Dean Martin show —but this starts at 10 p.m. It's a big difference at this hour, and it will sell because there'll be people around to view it. But to put it on at 7:30 would be a tremendous task.

Anniversary Party

American Legion Post 284 of Mill Valley will celebrate its 40th anniversary by holding its first 100 per cent roll call at a dinner Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in American Legion Hall, Mill Valley.

Plea Scheduled On Other Counts

William Charles Bragg, already serving time for marijuana possession, is to plead to grand theft and burglary charges at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

Bragg is accused of grand theft and burglary from Jim and Ken's TV Service at 1110 Grant Avenue, Novato, last Sept. 21 and Oct. 3, and burglary of Westland Radio and TV at 1535 Fourth Street, San Rafael, last Sept. 25.

He is in the California Medical Facility at Vacaville on his sentence for marijuana possession.

Jury Trial Set In Weapons Case

Drew K. Russell, 26, San Quentin inmate charged with illegal possession of a sharp instrument, is scheduled for a three-day jury trial to start in Marin Superior Court the week of June 12.

Russell, serving five years to life for burglary in Los Angeles County, allegedly had a homemade weapon last Oct. 21.

Hub Churchmen Are Helping Out Cotton Families

A group of Marin church people are helping provide money, medicine and hospital supplies, books, sports equipment and other items to alleviate the hardship of 300,000 cotton growers and their families in Mexicali in Baja California.

Latest in the project, which parishioners of St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo, began last May, is a community breakfast scheduled for Sunday in the parish hall after morning masses.

They are supporting a program of the Latin American Mission Program and contribute to the upkeep of 10 full-time volunteers who operate out of Mexicali.

Last year, two young parishioners went to work there as volunteers for part of their vacation. "We hope to increase the number this year and eventually send down a full-time volunteer to work for a year or longer," said Charles T. Kunst, chairman of St. Anselm's project.

Children's Display

Examples of written and oral work by children of Greenbrae School will be displayed at 7:45 p.m. Thursday at a "language arts culmination" program at the school. Principal Roy L. Smith will review the language program.

Death Mixup, Vietnam Sailor Is Really Alive

SAIGON (AP) — A military chaplain told his parents he was dead. Then his wife talked to him on the telephone. But a telegram came from the Pentagon confirming his death.

Today a U.S. Navy spokesman in Saigon said the wife was right and the Pentagon was wrong — Radioman 3.C. Charles S. Wall, 27, of West Monroe, La., was not killed in the crash of a Navy transport plane north of Saigon Friday.

NOT ON FLIGHT

The spokesman said the sailor had been scheduled to fly on the plane and his name was carried on the manifest. But he did not make the flight.

The spokesman said he had no more details but thought Wall was now with a Navy unit at Cam Ranh Bay, a U.S. air and sea base about 180 miles northeast of Saigon.

Officials in Saigon said they understood the Pentagon had sent another telegram to Wall's family expressing their regrets for the mixup.

The young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Wall of West Monroe, began a sad vigil Sunday when, returning home from church, they were met by a military chaplain who told them Charles had died in the plane crash.

They wept.

OVERJOYED

Their telephone rang yesterday. It was their daughter-in-law, calling from Chelsea, Mass.

"I just talked to Charles!" she shouted into the phone. "Charles missed the plane! He's still alive. They put him back on a destroyer."

The parents were overjoyed. Then came the telegram — the Defense Department making official the report that their son had died in the crash.

But who made the phone call to Charles' wife?

"It must have been a prankster," said Mrs. Wall. "We were looking so hard for something to hold. She might have been fooled over the phone. I hope not, though, I hope not. How could anyone do something like that: "How could they notify us he was dead if he wasn't?"

Today the Navy spokesman in Saigon confirmed that it had been no prankster and the Defense Department had been mistaken.

The plane that Charles missed, a two-engine C47 Navy transport, crashed near Phan Rang Friday afternoon and all aboard were killed. At least 25 persons and possibly 30 were reported to have died in the crash.

Some 65,000 Federal employees oversee regulations concerning consumer products, at a cost of approximately $1 billion a year.

All Agree, Novato's Dope Study Lacking

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato schools are not doing enough to teach the evils of narcotics, students are afraid of Novato police, and teachers and students should get together in small groups to discuss it.

These were some of the observations at an informal meeting of the school health committee, school administrators, and four selected students from Novato High School at the Lodge yesterday noon.

The group decided to call another meeting at which more students and teachers, along with representatives of the police department, could discuss the problems of marijuana and LSD at Novato High School.

The four students, Mike Ferretti, student body president, Sue Goehring, Kathy Matosich and Dave Ehreth, all agreed that the subject of narcotics was brushed over lightly when taught as a sideline to such other subjects as driver training and physical education.

"It's never really been explained and when mentioned, it is treated as though it is nothing serious," young Ferretti said.

Miss Matosich said it was brought up only in physical education and then "embarrassedly ineffeciently."

Supt. James G. Bunker of Novato Unified School District said he "got hit on the head" with that, because he was under the impression that it was taught all through the school.

Dave Ehreth said students who use narcotics feel that their rights are being violated. They think it is no worse to smoke marijuana than tobacco, or no worse to take an LSD trip than to get drunk on alcohol.

All four students felt dangers of drugs should really be seriously taught in some course such as social studies.

"The teachers are not educated enough on that problem to teach it," Miss Matosich charged. She said that by informal discussions with small groups, "teachers can learn a lot from the students."

Police Chief Robert DiGrazia said there are about 100 users of LSD and marijuana known to police in Novato. Most are high school students or young adults who have graduated from high school in the last two or three years, he said.

He pointed out to the students who had said they were afraid of the police, that the police are just the first part of law enforcement. The juvenile department and courts do the most in carrying out the punishment of the law which the police find is being violated.

Dr. Fredrick J. Newirth told how the whole picture of narcotics use has changed. Users of LSD become "apostles," wanting all of their friends to enjoy it, he said.

"Some people can use it without any difficulty while in others it produces types of insanity that have lasted for several years," said the doctor.

A great danger is that sometimes permanent damage to the brain becomes apparent many months after the drug has been used, Dr. Newirth warned.

Young Ehreth said he knew students who had used both marijuana and LSD. He urged group therapy for them.

Miss Goehring proposed that someone who had used drugs — perhaps from Synanon — "tell the kids the danger and burden of using drugs, especially the expense."

Budget On Agenda For Sausalito Council

Proposals by Sausalito City Mgr. George M. Patterson to revise budget procedures will be considered today by the city council in a special study session at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Also on the agendo is an official canvass of the March 7 vote on the $250,000 library bond measure, which failed to gain the necessary two-thirds approval.

'Reno Night Set'

Mill Valley Onipaa Club will host its annual "Reno Night" Friday at 8 p.m. in American Legion hall for the Indoor Sports Club of Marin, an organization of handicapped persons.

Organist Will Give Concert At College Of Marin

Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, organ virtuoso and composer, will present a recital of organ works at the College of Marin gymnasium Saturday at 8 p.m. as a feature of the college's concert-lecture series.

Admission is free.

The program will open with "Toccata in F Major" by Buxtehude and will include selections from the works of Johann Pachelbel, Antonio Vivaldi, and the popular Wolff arangement of George Philipp Telemann's "Suite for Organ."

Two Bach to be presented are "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" and "Prelude and Fugue in E Flat." Dr. Wolff's own arrangement of a prelude on "Greensleeves" and Dandrieu's Rondeau "Les Fifres" are included in the program.

Pro Basketball Players Call Off Threatened Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association said today that the rebellious players had notified NBA headquarters that their threatened strike before the league playoffs had been called off.

Notification was made in a telephone call from the office of Lawrence Fleisher, attorney for the players who have been seeking a higher pension plan.

Commissioner Walter Kennedy last week told the players that unless the strike was called off before Tuesday noon there would be no playoffs and the $280,000 players' pool would evaporate.

Kennedy and Fleisher were closeted together this morning.

The terms of settlement were not immediately disclosed but Oscar Robertson, star of the Cincinnati Royals and president of the players' association, has called a press conference for later today when presumably the agreement would be spelled out.

The present NBA pension plan under which the players contribute $500 annually, a sum matched by the owners, provides a $200 monthly pension for 10-year men.

The NBA offered a plan calling for approximately $500 monthly with the players continuing to contribute $500 and the owners putting up $1,500.

49ers Snare Spurrier In Pro Football Draft

JIM MURRAY

Our Hero Joins Ranks Of 'Those Who Played'

There is a cult of sportswriting which feels you can't get the true "mystique" of a sport from the press-box. You have to try it on the combat level.

Paul Gallico fought Jack Dempsey. George Plimpton played for the Detroit Lions. A brave fellow once tried Bob Feller's fastball. And so on.

THIS IS to tell you I have finally joined their stout ranks. Oh, I held out for quite a while. A guy once suggested I try bullfighting. "Fight a bull?" I asked him. "I wouldn't even milk one!"

"You can't milk a bull " he corrected me.

"Exactly," I said. "And until you can, you're not to bleed a sportswriter."

BUT MY friend and neighbor, Mal Iseman, was most persuasive. Drag-boat racing was his stick.

"Wait a minute," I said. "It's a quarter-mile long, and the time slot is only about 300 feet. Right?"

"Right," said Mal.

Now, my first choice for a participant sport would be canoe racing, followed closely by horseshoe pitching, but I could see where this would look more gaudy in my autobiography: "Sir Malcolm and I—Or How I Shot The Dangerous Waters Of Perris Ski-Land At Full Throttle."

WE DROVE to the inland slough southeast of Riverside, and got in line at the launch ramp. Mal hauled out a helmet."

"What's that for!" I asked in some alarm. "We're going to ride through the time slot, aren't we?"

"Whoa," said Mal, "In case you light on your head, this will lessen the shock."

I tried it on dubiously.

"Hurts my ears," I told him. "I can't get it on."

"I know," he said sympathetically. "It's got to be tight. Otherwise you might fracture your skull. If it flew off, I mean."

"Now," he said, holding a sheaf of paper, "if you will sign here."

WHAT'S THIS?" I asked.

"A mere formality," Mal shoothed. "Insurance papers. You're fully insured. If you get killed, your next of kin can collect."

I'm afraid my voice rose a few decibels. In fact, I was almost a soprano. Also, I was a nervous wreck.

"Killed! What kind of sport is this? How can you get killed riding a boat a quarter of a mile?"

"OH, YOU won't reassured Mal. "The worst you can get is a few broken bones."

"Yeah, but what if they're in my head?" I shrieked. "What are you trying to pull here?"

Mal ignored me. He was too busy fitting my life jacket on.

"What'll I need this for?" I wailed.

"Well," admitted Mal, "sometimes we get the cavitation blade too lose in the back, and the boat stands on its tail and flips over backward. The thing to do then is jump clear. You won't drown, unless the boat hits you in the head. It's only four feet of water. Just remember to keep your face up out of the water. If you're conscious, that is."

"IF I'M conscious!" I shouted. "If I'm conscious, I'll walk ashore!"

We got in the boat. The seat was bare wood.

"OH, YEAH," said Mal. "I haven't had a chance to get it upholstered. It might be a good idea to rise up out of the seat if we hit a wake or wind-rows. Wouldn't want to fracture your coccyx. Don't rise up too high, though, or you'll flip. If you do, try to remember where the propeller is"

"What part of the boat is it on?" I asked him miserably.

THE RUN through the time slot is going to make a poor part of my book. Because I had my eyes tightly closed all the time. It took them five minutes to pry my hands loose from the seat bar. The timer read 77.3 miles per hour.

"Oh, sure," I told him. "I always throw up just before lunch this way."

"How can you get seasick in a quarter mile?" he asked, puzzled.

"I'M NOT seasick, I'm airsick," I told him. "This thing went higher in the air than the Wright Brothers."

I had to be helped ashore. But I waved bravely to the crowd as my legs went out from under me. They looked at me curiously.

"Drunk, I guess," I heard one of them say. "I'm surprised they let him on the course in that condition."

West Champ Warriors Face East Champ 76ers Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors meet the Philadelphia 76ers tonight in a battle between the western and eastern division titleholders in the National Basketball Association.

The 8:30 game will be played in Civic Auditorium.

The Warriors easily handled the Detroit Pistons yesterday 135-109 but were hit with another injury. Jeff Mullins suffered an eye cut requiring five stitches in the second quarter. An elbow clout on the jaw in the fourth quarter took more stitches and he suffered cuts on both sides of his tongue.

Nate Thurmond made a fine return to form by dominating both backboards on rebounding and scoring 12 points against Detroit. He was playing his second game after missing 14 contests with a broken hand.

Rick Barry led Warrior scoring with 29 points. San Francisco wrapped up the game with a third quarter scoring drive led by reserve Bud Olsen. He scored 16 points.

Both coaches turned to reserves after San Francisco's margin reached 90-65 with three minutes left in the third period. Bobby Warlick put in 10 points in the final quarter.

Keith Lincoln Traded In Last-Minute Deal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Keith Lincoln, who wanted to leave San Diego, and Tom Day, who hoped to stay in Buffalo, found themselves in each other's cities after a major American Football League trade.

The Buffalo Bills announced the swap yesterday, less than 24 hours before the AFL and the National League began their first common draft of college seniors in New York.

In addition to Day, a 31-year-old defensive end, the Bills traded their second-round draft choice to the Chargers in exchange for Lincoln, 27, an explosive halfback who was slowed by a pulled hamstring muscle last season.

Lincoln, a standout at Washington State, has spent his six-year pro career with the Chargers and was named to the AFL's All-League team in 1964 and 1965. He is 6-foot-1 and weighs 212.

STRAINED

His relations with Chargers' Coach Sid Gillman occasionally became strained, however, and two years ago Lincoln said he'd rather play in Buffalo than San Diego. Gillman told him of the trade by telephone yesterday.

At his home in Pullman, Wash., Lincoln expressed delight at the news, saying:

"I think it is a compliment to be traded to Buffalo due to the fact I'm a running back, and they have two fine running backs — Wray Carlton and Bobby Burnett.

When asked about the Bills' offensive outlook for the 1967 campaign, Lincoln said: "Buffalo is always in contention, and I just hope that if I'm with 'em, I can be part of their success — to help 'em."

Day, at 6-foot-2 and 262 pounds, was an integral part of the Bills' tough defense. That stubbornness was a key factor in Buffalo's ability to gain two league championships and three Eastern Division titles in the last three years.

FORMER CARDINAL

Day joined Buffalo in 1961 after a year with the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals that followed a college career at North Carolina A&T. He makes his home in Buffalo.

"I was surprised, well, sort of surprised," he said after the player swap was announced. "And I can't say I'm happy about it, because I'm not. I have a lot of roots here."

Day said he got an inkling of a trade when Remi Prudhomme, a reserve offensive guard last season, was switched to defense last month. "It's always tough to accept, though, when you get attached to a city," he added.

Orioles Get Scare: Brooks Robinson Conked On Head

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Hank Bauer would rather lose a ballgame, his hair spray or even a bet rather than his star third baseman.

And that's the way it looked last night when the Baltimore Orioles' All-Star third baseman, Brooks Robinson, was knocked on the head by a pitch in the fourth inning of a game against Atlanta.

Robinson was rushed to a hospital, X-rays were taken, and the Orioles lost the game 1-0 in 10 innings. Reports from the hospital indicated that the injury to Robinson was "not serious."

It gave the Braves a perfect 3-0 exhibition record. Atlanta pitchers Cecil Upshaw, Phil Niekro, Jay Ritchie and Julio Navarro blanked the Orioles on five hits and allowed only one Oriole to reach third base. Baltimore is now 2-1 in grapefruit play.

Surprise Trade By S.F. Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Four Michigan State stars, headed by giant Bubba Smith, were among the first eight players selected today in the first combined player draft of the National and American Football Leagues.

Smith, the 1966 College Lineman of the Year, was the No. 1 pick and was selected by the Baltimore Colts of the NFL.

The other seven top picks were:

2. Clint Jones, Michigan State running back, by the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL.

3. Steve Spurrier, Heisman Trophy winning quarterback from Florida, by San Francisco 49ers of the NFL.

The 49ers got the No. 3 pick in a trade with the Atlanta Falcons for three players. The 49ers gave the Falcons flanker Bernie Casey, guard Jim Wilson and defensive tackle and end Jim Norton.

4. Bob Griese, Purdue quarterback, by Miami of the AFL.

5. George Webster, Michigan State linebacker, by Houston of the AFL.

6. Floyd Little, Syracuse running back, by Denver of the AFL.

FARR TO LIONS

7. Mel Farr, UCLA running back, by Detroit of the NFL.

8. Gene Washington, Michigan State offensive end, by Minnesota of the NFL.

The Colts got the first choice by using the draft pick of the New Orleans Saints, the new team in the NFL. The Saints had traded their No. 1 selection to the Colts for veteran quarterback Gary Cuozzo, who had asked to be traded by the Colts.

Minnesota, in need of a running back, used the draft choice of the lowly New York Giants. The Vikings had acquired the Giants' No. 1 pick as part of the deal for veteran quarterback Fran Tarkenton.

The Vikings had the privilege of making the first pick this year or in 1968, also as part of the trade with the Giants. They elected to make their super pick next year.

Then the Vikings, making their regular draft as No. 8 on the list, selected Gene Washington, Michigan State's fine offensive end.

283 POUNDS

Smith, 21, stands 6-feet-7 and weighs 283 pounds. He was chosen as an All-America, as was Jones, a speedy, 6-foot, 201-pound halfback, who gained 1,921 yards during his college career.

Spurrier was third in the country in passing last season with 2,012 yards and 16 touchdowns. He was sixth in total offense with 2,078 yards and was Florida's punter, averaging 40.8 yards per kick.

Over his career, Spurrier passed for 4,484 yards, a 56.6 percentage and 36 TDs.

CASEY, TWO OTHERS GO TO ATLANTA FOR PICK

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers traded Bernie Casey, star flanker back, Jim Norton, defensive end, and Jim Wilson, offensive guard, to the Atlanta Falcons yesterday for the draft pick that gave the 49ers quarterback Steve Spurrier.

The deal was spelled out by the 49ers after it was announced in the New York draft meeting that the 49ers had picked the University of Florida star quarterback and Heisman Trophy winner.

Before the announcement, a report that the 49ers dealt off veteran quarterback John Brodie for the Spurrier selection was denied by 49er General Manager Lou Spadia.

Giants Give Young Fireballer A Try

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants expect to try out Jim Carroll, a fast-balling rookie from Mississippi State, against the Chicago Cubs today in an exhibition game at the Cubs' Scottsdale camp.

The only satisfying excitement for San Francisco was Willie Mays' sixth inning triple, a 430-foot clout off the center-field fence. Mays is batting 6 for 10, a .600 clip, but has not homered in the first four exhibition games.

Carroll, getting his first pitching chance against major league hitters today, is 22, stands 6-3, and weighs 215. Chub Feeney, Giant vice president, said the scouting reports claimed Carroll throws hard enough to pierce a battleship hull.

Don Kessinger, Glen Beckert, and Billy Williams rapped left-hander Dick Estelle for three singles and a run in the first. Singles by Beckert, Williams, and Ron Santo scored another in the third.

Chicago's winning run in the fourth came without a hit. Rookie Nestor Chavez walked Adolfo Phillips, who stole second and went to third on a balk. He scored on Kessinger's ground out.

The Cubs added a run in the eighth on a triple by Byron Browne and George Pena's single off rookie Ron Bryant.

The Giants threatened a ninth inning rally when Siebern led off with a single. Pinch runner Bobby Bonds went to third on Jim Davenport's single. But Frank Johnson bounced into a double play, scoring Bonds, and Bill Sorrell flied out.

Southpaw Mike McCormick reported a sore hurling arm and likely won't see exhibition action for a week. McCormick said he wasn't concerned because it happens every spring.

From Santo Domingo came word that Juan Marichal, the Giants hurling ace holding out for $125,000, may soon depart the Dominican Republic for Phoenix.

Marichal yesterday visited the shrine of La Virgen de la Altagracia, the Dominican patron saint. He has made such a visit every year shortly before leaving for the United States.

Return Of Spitball Would Open Door For Other Illegal Pitches

HANLEY

PHOENIX — Baseball brass outlawed the spit ball decades ago because it supposedly was dangerous to batters. Each spring since, spitter sentimentalists have been pleading for a lost cause. They will tell you the spitter never was dangerous.

That's true," maintains Frank Shellenback, one of the most celebrated of all the spit ballers. "It isn't a dangerous pitch. It never was. But the spitters led to the mud, shine, coffee and emory balls. The only way to control them was to legislate the spitter out of existence."

CHUB FEENEY, member of baseball's rules committee, says he will never vote for return of the spitter because it would ultimately mean the return of the other illegal pitches. The vice president of the Giants objects to the spitter for another reason.

"I just don't like the idea of envisioning thousands of Little Leaguers spitting on baseballs," said Feeney. "And that's just what they would start doing if the Official Rules Committee legalized the spitter."

FEENEY IS not moved by arguments that a number of pitchers now are surreptiously spitting on the ball — so why not legalize the pitch for every moundsmean.

"That's like arguing for a license to steal just because there are thieves at large," said Fenney.

AN IMMEDIATE and effective stop could be put to today's illegal spitter by simply prohibiting a pitcher from going to his mouth with his pitching fingers.

But the rules permit a pitcher to touch his mouth with his pitching hand provided he subsequently dries his fingers on the resin bag or his uniform.

"Stop the mouth move and you stop the spitter," said Landes.

Shellenback, now pitching coach emeritus of the Giants, enjoys the annual spring academic discussion about the spitter and nostalgically recalls the era of the mud, shine, coffee and emory balls.

"WHY," SAID Shellenback, "I have some souvenir game balls at home that wouldn't be used in batting practice today. I think ptichers have a tough job today compared to my era. If a ball gets a speck on it today it's tossed out of the game."

NIT: Southern Illinois, Marshall Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Basketball is a labor of love for Southern Illinois' skillful Salukis, but jumping George Stone and the Thundering Herd prefer to shoot first — and let the good times roll.

"When I'm hot, I just keep pumping. I'm not bashful," an exultant Stone exclaimed last night after his 46-point barrage led Marshall's hurrying Herd to a record-breaking 119-98 triumph over Nebraska in the National Invitation Tournament.

"The keys for us have been balance and hard work," said Coach Jack Hartman, whose Salukis preceded Marshall into the NIT semifinals by wearing down Duke 72-63 in the first game of the Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

Marshall and Southern Illinois play the respective winners of tonight's Providence-Marquette and New Mexico-Rutgers pairings in Thursday night's semis.

Stone, an angular 6-foot-7 jump-shooter whose accuracy appears to improve as he moves farther away from the hoop, put together the high-point game thus far in the tourney as Marshall shattered Bradley's 10-year-old NIT record of 116 points.

"He's the best big-man shooter I've ever seen," said Marshall pilot Ellis Johnson, who has seen a few since he captained Adolph Rupp's second Kentucky team in 1931-32. "But he's got to be pressured. When we screen for him, he can't shoot."

"He doesn't see too good from in close," said teammate Jim Davidson, who rooms with the fun-loving Stone. "If you notice, he misses all his easy ones. He's got to be at least 20 feet away."

How about 30-35 feet away? "Not that far," said Stone, with a wink. "Well, maybe once in a while. I had a hot hand tonight and I saw the other fellows were feeding me, so I just threw them up there."

The junior forward, limited to 15 points in Marshall's 70-68 overtime victory over Villanova last Thursday night, poured in 26 in the first half against the stunned Cornhuskers, hitting on 12 of 19 shots from the floor. He finished with 20-for-38 and a school point record.

Dan D'Antoni and Davidson added 24 and 23 points, respectively, to the onslaught as the Herd extended its winning string to eight. Tom Baack fired in 33 for Nebraska—25 in the second half.

Sophomore Dick Garrett, rugged Ralph Johnson and Little All-America Walt Frazier led Southern Illinois past the Blue Devils for its 16th straight victory and 22nd in 24 starts. Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 college division team, has won seven of nine games against major foes.

"We've played some of the best teams in the country and we thought we'd have a good chance here," said Frazier, the 6-3 floor general who contributed 17 points, nine rebounds and six assists to the SIU attack. "Some teams have one star. We have five players on the court—no stars. We have desire and momentum. We could go all the way."

Garrett scored 18 points and 6-7 Johnson 17 for the Salukis, who pulled away in the final five minutes despite Bob Verga's 24-point sniping for the Blue Devils. A string of 11 free throws down the stretch protected SIU's margin.

"We knew they were physically tough," Hartman said of the taller, heavier Blue Devils. "We had to battle them off the boards. We were concerned about two things—the boards and Verga. But our kids adjusted to them. That Verga is one fine ball player, but he had to earn every shot tonight."

"Frazier's an All America all right—and I mean big time," said Duke Coach Vic Bubas. "They could hold their own in the NCAA tourney. No team would wipe them out—not even UCLA."

Four Michigan Staters Among High Grid Picks

try in total offense, passing for 1,964 yards and 18 TDs. He also served as the Boilermakers' kicker.

Webster, a 212-pound All-America, was called Michigan State's Monster Man. He is a tenacious tackler and has great pursuit.

Little is an explosive runner who was the greatest rusher in the history of Syracuse which produced Jimmy Brown and the late Ernie Davis.

Little gained 811 yards for 12 touchdowns in 1966 and had a career total of 2,704 yards gained for an average of 5.36 per carry. He is particularly dangerous on kickoff and punt returns.

Farr is a shifty halfback with power. He rushed for 1,680 yards, better than six yards per carry, in his career.

Washington, a fine receiver stands 6-3 and weighs 219 pounds. A Big Ten hurdles champion, Washington caught 102 passes for 1,857 yards and 16 TDs during his career.

Green Bay, using a pick acquired in an earlier trade with Pittsburgh, selected Bob Hyland, a guard from Boston College. He was No. 9 in the draft.

Phillips, a 6-3 230-pounder, was a two-time All America, the first ever in Arkansas history. The Bears said they plan to use Phillips at defensive end.

San Francisco used its regular first round pick to draft Cas Banaszek, an offensive end from Northwestern. Banaszek is 6-3, 228.

Don Shula, Baltimore's coach, said he thought the Colts had a potential superstar in Bubba Smith, their first round selection.

"A player with his size and speed only comes along once every 10 years," Shula said. "He doesn't have an ounce of fat on him and he reportedly has outrun backs at Michigan State.

Shula said Smith, a defensive end in college, might be shifted to tackle with the Colts. "We would like to think he could move into a starting assignment. But he's got to prove himself," said Shula.

McDonald, 6-5, 248, was the nation's leading rusher 1st year with 1,329 yards and 14 TDs. He gained 2,799 yards for his career, an average of 4.92 per carry.

The selection of McDonald completed half of the first round with 13 players still to be chosen in the first of 17 draft rounds.

Bud Grant, the new Minnesota head coach who succeeded Norman Van Brocklin, said Jones is "one of the things we need very badly— a running back who can make the big play."

He said Jones gives the Vikings greater flexibility with its running backs. Grant said Tommy Mason's future still was uncertain. The star back had operations on both of his knees this winter.

"We think Jones gives us an excellent backup for Mason and we look for Jones to be a future star for us."

San Diego selected Ron Billingsley, a defensive tackle from Wyoming. He was the 14th player chosen. He is 6-8, 258.

Minnesota got its third pick of the first round when it traded unnamed players to Los Angeles for the No. 15 selection.

The Vikings, who had chosen Clint Jones and Gene Washington, both of Michigan State, earlier in the opening round, selected Alan Page, a defensive end from Notre Dame.

Dr. Henry, Illinois Trustees Huddle Today To Map Plans

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Dr. David D. Henry and the University of Illinois Board of Trustees huddle today to decide what action will be taken in a final Big Ten appeal concerning the $21,000 slush fund scandal.

Dr. Henry, president of the university, is expected to get approval from the board in an attempt to "show cause" why three coaches involved in the scandal should not be fired.

Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives have ruled the university must show cause why its membership shouldn't be suspended or terminated if the three coaches are not fired.

The three are Football Coach Pete Elliott, Basketball Coach Harry Combes and Combes' assistant, Howard Braun. Dr. Henry has held the Big Ten's demands are "too harsh."

Illinois has until Friday to serve notice that it seeks an appeal, and a date, mutually convenient for both groups, will be set for a meeting, probably next week.

If the faculty representatives still demand that Illinois fire the coaches or get out of the Big Ten, Dr. Henry and the trustees again will meet to make their final decision.

In addition to demanding the dismissal of the coaches, the faculty men recently ruled five Illini athletes permanently ineligible and three temporarily ineligible.

Several other athletes either left school or were cleared of charges involving illegal aid ranging from $15 to $50 a month.

Meanwhile, former athletic director Doug Mills, who resigned Dec. 1, a couple of weeks before the scandal broke, denied he had made statements that Dr. Henry had knowledge of the slush fund.

Mills said his remarks to a Chicago columnist Sunday were misinterpreted. Mills was quoted as saying Dr. Henry "knew as much about the fund as I did."

After denying having made the statements, Mills, who previously had remained silent through the ordeal, said he would appear before the faculty representatives during the final hearing "if the school wants me to do so . . . I'll do anything the university wants me to do."

Big Victory For Marin Swimmers

Superior depth carried the Marin Swim Club, the team that came out of a merger of the Marin Pirates and Ann Curtis Swim Club, to a stunning team victory in the Northern California Class A swim meet at Sacramento last weekend.

Marin piled up 323 points. The runnerup team: Adren Hills, close to being the top team in Northern California behind nationally famous Santa Clara. Arden Hills, which barely nicked Marin in a dual meet earlier in the season, got 303½ points.

Marin got only ten first places but showed its depth by getting 15 second places, 16 thirds, 10 fourths, seven fifths and seven sixths.

Cheryl Cattan topped individual swimmers for Marin with firsts in the 100-yard individual medley, 50-yard backstroke, and 50-yard butterfly in the girls 9-10. Robin Bachrach snared two firsts while Carolyn Hill, and Dick DeMont each won one event.

In the relays the girls 11-12 team of Denis Ham, Cory Vidak, Robin Bachrach and Ann Engel snared firsts in the 200-yard medley and 200-yard freestyle while the boys 9-10 team of Rick DeMont, Spencer Eldred, Ken DeMont and Steve Crow was first in the 200-yard medley.

TOURNEY OF CHAMPS NOTES

Sprout Showed Courage

By GARY TISCHLER

Jerry Sprout, Drake's 6-foot-6 center who was named All-Star at the high school basketball Tournament of Champions in Oakland last week, deserves every honor he gets, and maybe more.

Sprout, who was the top rebounder of the tournament along with Balboa's Pat Hamm with 42, got most of them the hard way.

The Drake senior sprained his ankle early in the second half of Friday night's game against Fremont and from there on in was playing in pain. There was some question as to whether he would be able to play against Berkeley Saturday but play he did any way. No novocain could be found Saturday to kill the pain so Sprout had to grit and bear it.

TWO DRAKE trademarks were prevalent during the Pirates' three games: Hard-nosed defense and antarctic free throw shooting.

The Pirates met three high-powered offensive teams and chipped huge chunks off their scoring averages. Against Drake, Newark (76.7) got 51; Fremont (65.1) got 50 and Berkeley (72.9) got 57. However, Drake's 34 points against Fremont was the Pirates' lowest output of the season.

If the Drake defense was tough, the free throw shooting was strictly a waste. Never torrid on the line all season, the Pirates were even worse in the tournament, winding up with a 23 for 58 showing, or 44 per cent. Many were key one-and-one shots. The Pirates shot 17 for 35 against Newark then plummetted to 2 for 11 against Fremont and 4-12 against Berkeley.

LOOK WHO didn't make the all-tourney team department: Drake forward Chet Carlisle had a 14.8 scoring average for three games, including a 21-point performance against Newark. His total was sixth-best among tournament players, topped only by the tourney's top scorer Tom Lunceford of Newark (20.3), Phil Chenier of Berkeley (19.1). Darrel Fregia of Balboa (18.5), Carl Shelton of Berkeley, (17.7) and Raul Yanez of Fremont (16.6). But Balboa's Ron Stewart (9.9) and Mitch Champi (11.7) of consolation champ Hayward made the elite squad.

PROBABLY THE most emotion-packed moments of the final night came after it was all over. It started with Mike Douglas, Fremont's bearded, bespectacled super-center, ripping the nets off the basket impatiently in the victory ritual, then calmly walking down court before breaking into a frenzied, happy Irish frug.

Then Arron Qualls, coach at Balboa for the past 21 years and making his first trip to the TOC, walked the length of the court, his face grim, obviously upset, and went down the line of the Fremont bench to shake every hand from the coach, to the players and manager.

Fremont reciprocated when the Buccaneers went up to accept their second-place trophy as every Fremont player stood up and cheered as the Buccaneers passed by.

The tournament, in fact, was noticable for its show of sportsmanship throughout. There has not been so much handshaking since Hubert Humphrey hit the campaign trail.

The officiating tended to go toward the loose, rough game. In fact, in the final two games there was a feeling that the men in black and white would not have called a six-car pileup on the freeway if they were in the middle of it.

THERE WAS no general crumbling of records, although one was broken twice within two nights and the single game team score also fell when Fremont topped Petaluma, 87-56 in the opener on opening night. That game also set a combined mark or 143 points, breaking the old mark of 139. It was a short-lived record, tumbling 18 hours later when Newark nicked Petaluma in overtime, 96-82 in a consolation match.

BERKELEY'S ALAMEDA County League foes watching tournament must have winced heavily throughout. Four of the Yellowjacket starters and part-time starting center Dave Dockery are juniors, including Chenier and fellow all-tournament pick Carl Shelton. Chenier scored 30 against Drake. Shelton 31 against Balboa.

Swimmers 'Need' The Spotlight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Swimmers are more aggressive than football players and possess a greater desire to be in the spotlight, a psychology professor said yesterday.

Bruce C. Ogilvie of San Jose State College said recent research has shown that outstanding athletes have many more positive personality traits than previously suspected.

"An interesting example might be the trait of aggression, with male and female swimmers being a significantly higher than the average population, but also higher than most football athletes," he told the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

"Another example would be the need for the spotlight or acclaim of the crowds, where male swimmers were exceedingly high, women modestly high and football athletes low."

About 5,500 teachers and health experts attending the group's five-day convention were scheduled to adjourn today.

In another address yesterday, University of Utah researcher Richard Hardy said that of 35 boys who dropped out of secondary schools in Salt Lake City, most had generally poor family health practices, no family physician and poor nutritional standards.

Marin Swimmers Drubbed By Chabot

Mulder won the 50-yard freestyle event in 23.9. Picking up seconds for Marin were Bill Cannedy, Dennis Good, Pete Brinkerhoff and Mulder.

Ray Reed, Pat Weddell Top Keg Scores At Nave Lanes

Ray Reed and Pat Weddell were the headline bowlers last week in regular league action at Nave Lanes near Ignacio.

Salmon Boats Strike It Rich, Then Stymied By Bad Weather

STEVENS

What a difference a day makes! Last Saturday the party boats Sea Horse, Ann V and Yvette came home with nearly 50 salmon to 12 pounds with the best action near Duxbury Reef.

Then on Sunday, alas and alack, most Bay Area boats either stayed at their moorage or got as far as the Golden Gate Bridge before turning around and returning home—victims of stormy weather.

Too bad for the sabbath salmon seekers, but it was good news to learn that at least the schools of salmon are still around.

It would seem to the casual observer that weather evil enough to discourage the salmon boats also would keep smaller boats in the safety of their harbors. But, according to Buck Edding of Buck's Landing at Santa Venetia, the reverse was true.

"IT' S BEAUTIFUL weather here," reported Edding Sunday. "Winds aren't over six or eight knots and the water is calm and clear. More than 20 boats were launched here this morning and I expect they will do as well as they did on Saturday, when lots of stripers to 18 and 22 pounds came in. One boat really had a day — limits of stripers and sturgeon and a mess of flounders. The top sturgeon weighed 68 pounds."

Edding noted the best action occured near the Pump House. Apparently the small and medium sized bass have moved and the larger fish have taken over.

HAL BOENNER of Lee Anderson's bait shop in Oakland reports some fair luck lately by shore anglers from the Ashby Avenue rocks and Point Isabel areas of the East Bay.

THE MONEY you paid for duck stamps has been put to good use: It paid for the purchase of San Luis Island National Wildlife Refuge which lies six miles north of Los Banos in Merced County.

Kim Knudson Is Swim Winner

Kim Knudson, competing for San Rafael Swim Club in the Northern California Class A indoor championships in Sacramento last weekend, was the team's only first-place winner.

Miss Knudson, 11-12 age group, won the 50-yard breaststroke in 35.5 seconds, and notched a second in the 100-yard breast.

Other point winners were Scott Hislop, boys 8 and under, second, 25-yard breast; Mary Andrews, girl's 11-12, third, 50-yard butterfly; Laura Listug, girl's 9-10, sixth, 50-yard backstroke; and the medley and free relay squad of Jo Ann Hislop, Kim Knudson, Mary Andrews, Milessa Panages (girl's 11-12) second and third, respectively.

James Devlin, a pitcher for Louisville in 1876, won 30 games in his rookie year but lost a record 34.

High-price. 1967 Sedan de Ville

Medium-price. 1965 Sedan de Ville

Low-price. 1964 Sedan de Ville

No matter what price car you are planning to buy, you owe it to yourself to consider Cadillac. First, there is the great new 1967 Cadillac. Noticeably more agile in its handling, smoother and quieter in its operation, more luxurious in its appointments . . . it is by far the finest Cadillac in history. However, if a new Cadillac is presently not feasible, your authorized dealer now has a wide selection of previously owned Cadillacs at just about any price you wish to pay. And that price will buy more luxury, distinction and motoring pleasure than a similarly priced car of lesser stature. For example, both the 1965 and 1964 models shown provide you with a big 340-horsepower V-8 engine . . . Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission . . . power brakes and steering . . . cornering lights . . . and many other conveniences. So when you think of your next car—think of Cadillac. New or previously owned, in whatever price range you choose, Cadillac is sure to reward you with unsurpassed motoring enjoyment

Reagan Back At Desk Revising His Budget

SAMCRAMENTO (AP)—Gov Ronald Reagan went back to work today on the state's finances and found his $946 million tax program facing a long, tough road in the Senate.

A Reagan aide said the Republican governor's 1967 - 68 budget will be offered to legislators in revised form "hopefully next week. Reagan has increased the budget from his original $4.62 billion proposal to about $5 billion, with restoration of some of the spending he wanted to cut.

The governor returned to Sacramento yesterday after a trip to Washington, D.C., and a visit with former Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower at Palm Springs.

Of the tax plan, Vernon L. Sturgeon, Reagan's liaison man for the Senate, says that the governor's proposal may successfully clear the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee. But he added:

Some senators and assemblymen from both parties have suggested withholding taxes, opposed by Reagan. Sturgeon told a meeting of state department heads that Reagan remains opposed to withholding but if the legislature passed such a bill, "whether or not he would sign it, I just don't know."

The tax bill calls for a one-cent sales tax increase, changes in the bank and corporation and state income taxes to produce taxes on cigarettes and alcohol. The money would be used to meet an expected 1967-68 budget deficit ,offer property tax relief, aid schools and provide pay raises for state employees.

The Republican tax program was sent to the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, which Sturgeon said is "very often referred to as the meat grinder and a place to send bills to the graveyard."

He said he wondered why the bill was sent there.

"Any bill like that containing changes in state policy always has gone to Governmental Efficiency," said Burns, D-Fresno, the Senate's president pro tem.

The senator said a compromise bill was "possible. I think probably there's a good chance of that happening eventually."

The bill also will be considered by the Senate Revenue and Taxation Comittee and possibly by the Senate Finance Committee, Burns said.

Finch Critical Of Unionizing Farm Labor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Reagan administration will do nothing to encourage unionization of farm workers, Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch declares.

He also contends that the federal government is pushing farm labor unionization to the detriment of the traditional small family farm—and at unfair cost to agriculture.

The Republican lieutenant governor's remarks came last night during a half-hour interview with three newsmen about agriculture on Sacramento educational television station.

Finch was asked what he thought about the trend toward enrolling farm workers in labor unions, which has stirred a continuing battle in California for more than a year.

"I will do nothing to encourage that trend and I think I speak for the administration," he replied.

He again criticized Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz for requiring California farmers who want to use foreign field hands to first offer domestic help a $1.60 hourly minimum wage.

"My personal feeling is that Secretary Wirtz with his labor background had very much in consideration the consequences" of the order in encouraging unionization, Finch remarked.

Lagoon On Agenda

Dr. Martin Griffin of Kentfield, chairman of the Audubon Canyon Ranch directors will talk about a "Bird's Eye View of Bolinas Lagoon," at a meeting of the Conservation Council of Marin at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Hospital, Doctor Facing Damage Suit

Loyd Price, of 6 Dusel Court, Novato, has filed a $200,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court against Dr. Jacques Cousaud and Novato General Hospital.

The suit alleges the doctor , of Novato, treated Price at the hospital during the month of May, 1966, and negligence in treatment and an operation resulted in damage to Price's nerves and a hand.

Police Say School Vandalism Solved With Teen's Arrest

San Rafael police today claimed four instances of school vandalism and burglary, including one last summer, were cleared with apprehension of a 12-year-old Terra Linda boy.

Another Terra Linda boy, 13, was involved in one incident, police said.

The 12-year-old admitted breaking into Nova Albion, Valecito and Don Timoteo schools during the weekend of Jan. 7-9, police said.

The boy and his companion also entered Bernard Hoffman School last July 3 and turned on a fire hose, which ran for two days before being discovered, causing extensive damage, officers claimed.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa credited Patrolman Jack Loane with cracking the case. Loane, who covers a Terra Linda beat, had worked on the case since the January vandalism, and eventually turned up two Vallecito students who gave him information leading to the culprit.

The 12 - year - old has been turned over to the county probation department, said Sgt. Louis E. Foster, head of the police juvenile division. The 13-year-old lives outside the city and has been referred to the sheriff's department, Foster said.

No theft was reported in any of the break-ins, Foster said.

Miniskirts Not Proper In Church

VALLETTA, Malta (UPI) — Roman Catholics have been warned not to mix fashion and faith during worship.

Church notices said women wearing mini skirts, the latest fad on the Mediterranean island, might be barred from services because they distract other churchgoers.

Tiburon Citizens Rap Corporation Yard Site

Proposals to locate Tiburon's public works corporation yard temporarily on surplus property of the Belvedere Tennis Club drew fire last night from residents of Hawthorne Terrace.

Thomas E. Welsh of 675 Hawthorne Drive told the Tiburon City Council that residents of the development across Tiburon Boulevard did not want "a garage in their front room." He said there had been an understanding between the city and Hawthorne Terrace property owners that any development of the club property would require a master plan.

The club has offered the city a 9,000-square-foot parcel for $100 a month on a one-year lease with option to renew.

Mayor John S. Hoffmire said about 25 possible locations were under review and the club site was a "last resort."

Mrs. Judy Agajan of 694 Hilary Drive, who objected to the club site, also unsuccessfully opposed the city's purchase of a road roller for $2,578 and an oiler for $1,262 from Ricker Machinery Co. of Oakland. She asked, "Why should we buy something we cannot house?"

Hoffmire said the city expected to have a public works department yard chosen by the time the equipment arrived, and the council approved the purchase.

The council also authorized expenditures up to $500 by the planning commission for consultants' advice on the downtown plan.

Hoffmire had objected that any advice on the plan should be contributed without charge by Callister and Payne, who drew it up. Councilman Thomas E. Drohan, however, said the commission wanted an independent, technical opinion on putting the plan into effect and did not want to put Callister and Payne in the position of defending the plan exactly as prepared.

Tiburon City Council Also:

ORDINANCES — Adopted ordinances requiring a permit to remove trees on private property, establishing a 15-mile speed limit on Hilary Drive between Theresa Court and 600 Hilary Drive, and prohibiting motorcycle riding on unimproved roads without a city permit and consent of the property owner and fire department.

GAS TAX FUNDS — Authorized agreement with the State Division of Highways allowing the city to use gasoline tax funds to re-channel the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard, Main Street and Paradise Drive.

UNDERGROUNDING — Approved a proposal by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to put utility lines underground on Hilary Drive when new sidewalks are constructed in conjunction with extension of the street.

TAXI SERVICE — At request of Eal L. Bailey of the Village Taxi Service, Strawberry, withdrew his application for a taxi permit in Tiburon.

LANDSCAPING — Directed the parks and recreation commission to supply details on plantings desired and a budget for landscaping Tiburon Boulevard.

AUDIT REPORT — Accepted an audit by the firm of Sleazer and Eckhoff, San Rafael, for the fiscal year 1966.

Angel Island Bids Called

The State Department of General Services has called for bids for development of the Ayala Cove entrance at Angel Island State Park.

Bids will be opened in Sacramento April 4, with construction estimated at $110.000.

The project calls for a redwood board and batten comfort station and checking station, complete with turnstiles and change machines, redwood picket control fences and gates, a concrete septic tank and other related facilities.

The architectural treatment throughout is to be in keeping with the early days of San Francisco, the department announced.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Measles Nearing Eradication Through Mass Immunization

VAN DELLEN

Measles could be eradicated by the middle of 1967 if all susceptible children are vaccinated. The measles vaccine has been perfected and the next generation of youngsters should be immunized before the 10th month of life while they still have some protective antibodies from the mother. In this way reactions to the vaccine are minimized.

Mass immunization is a tremendous task and is most easily done clinics and schools. For example, Detroit authorities immunized 171,000 children in one day with the help of 3,000 physicians, nurses, pharmacists, and citizen volunteers. A vigorous program of this type calls for planning, cooperation and considerable publicity.

MEASLES IS one of the most contagious of all infections and can be serious when complications such as encephalitis, pneumonia and inflammation of the middle ear develop. Approximately 400 deaths are traced to this disease annually in the United States. Although the antibiotics are helpful in overcoming the complications and gamma globulin provides temporary protection, the vaccine should eliminate the need for these remedies.

The victim of measles appears to be and is uncomfortable with his rash and red, watery, swollen eyes. These symptoms usually develop 10 to 14 days after exposure. The earliest signs of the disorder are those of a cold—nasal discharge, cough, headache, fever and malaise.

THE SKIN outbreak begins behind the ears, on the neck and face, and spreads to the chest, back, trunk, and extremities. It lasts four to five days and begins to fade in the same order as it appeared. Cough may be the most troublesome manifestation, lasting for several weeks after the skin clears. The vaccine also will eliminate this experience in the lives of our children.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

HEART PAIN AND BILE

Mrs. P. S. writes: Can thickened, sluggish bile cause angina pectoris?

REPLY

No, although there is a relationship between the heart and the gall bladder. Now and then angina pectoris is relieved after the diseased organ is removed. No one knows why an infected gall bladder has an adverse effect upon the heart, but a nervous reflex mechanism may be responsible.

ASPIRIN TAKER

W. G. writes: I take six to 10 aspirins every day to relieve sore joints. Will they affect me in later years?

REPLY

No. Aspirin may irritate the wall of the stomach but is otherwise harmless. On the other hand, these tablets offer only temporary relief and do not solve the problem. I suggest, therefore, that you consult your family physician.

FLUID AND SALT LOSSES

E. F. K. writes: Should everyone take salt tablets in hot weather?

REPLY

No. In most instances, abundant salting of food will replace the loss of this mineral through excessive perspiration. In addition, drink plenty of fluids.

LIVER TESTS

L. I. Y. writes: Would an X-ray determine the condition of the liver?

REPLY

There are a dozen or more liver function tests but none requires the use of the X-ray.

Criticisms Of Planners Set Tonight

"Dictatorship by the Marin County Planning Commission" will be discussed at the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce meeting tonight, chamber president Henry Hankins said today.

Hankins said there is widespread dissatisfaction in West Marin with efforts to determine the area's future. He said, "We believe the prople of West Marin should have something to say, not be dictated to by the planning department."

He charged the department with prohibiting any development in the western part of the county and said County Planner Paul C. Zucker "wants to maintain complete control of development out here."

The chamber, meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Clay's Farm House, Olema, will also discuss what Hankins called "contradictory statements" by the National Park Service and the county planning department on commercial development related to Point Reyes National Seashore.

"We've heard a lot of double talk," he said. The park service has talked of leasing back part of the park land for commercial development, but the planning department would "prevent any development," he declared.

2,000 Pounds Of Marijuana Is Confiscated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A ton of marijuana and uncut heroin was confiscated by police in Los Angeles and Lynwood, state narcotics agents report.

Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch said yesterday that the seizure was "the largest haul of illegal marijuana ever made in California and probably in the whole world." He estimated its illegal wholesale value at $250,000.

Joseph A. Pacheco, 51, owner of an automobile accessory shop in Lynwood, was booked on suspicion of possessing and selling narcotics, as were three Sylmar men, Victor J. Bono, 30, Reymundo Duran, 31, and Mario Godinez, 23.

State agents said more than 2,000 pounds of drugs were found in a rabbit hutch in suburban Sylmar. Agents said the marijuana had been smuggled in the false bottom of a truck.

Annual 4M Horse Show Due Sunday

Entries will be accepted right up to the opening of the seventh annual 4M Mounted Sheriff's Patrol horse show set for Sunday at Circle V Ranch on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard above Fairfax, beginning at 9 a.m.

Proceeds of the show go to the advancement of junior horsemanship through the California State Horsemen's Association and for better horse trails.

An approved point show in the horsemen's association junior division, the show will offer trophies for all classes and ribbons through sixth place. Admission is free.

English classes will be in the morning, western in the afternoon, and this year two halter classes will be offered, as well as model English type in hand and western model stock in hand. New this year is the odd color western pleasure class.

Judge for all classes will be Russ Franklin of Fresno. Information and entry blanks may be obtained from Dee Rodarte, 707 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo.

If you heard it all.

You could sneeze and miss what the Secretary of Defense said to the President.

The phone would ring and you'd miss tomorrow's weather report.

If you're average, you'll spend one week, two days and 10 hours reading your daily newspaper this year.

A few minutes of reading a newspaper gives you more information than hours of listening to radio or TV.

Now you can turn the page and tune in some more news.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Health-Care Stock Should Be Retained

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "In the recent past, you have often spoken of American Hospital Supply as a growth stock. I am curious as to the relative merit of this issue and Baxter Laboratories, which I own. Should I switch my holdings of Baxter into AHS?"

R. H.

A. That is a reasonable question. Both stocks you mention operate in the same general field, that of health and hospital equipment. This is probably one of the most important and recession-proof areas in our economy, considerably stimulated by Medicare.

American Hospital Supply is the leading factor in the business with total sales in 1966 roughly three times those of Baxter Labs. Both companies have shown strong growth over the past two years and it seems certain to continue. Shares in each company now sell at high earnings multiples and at close to all-time highs. I do not advise you to switch your Baxter Laboratories, which has been a sound and profitable holding.

My greater emphasis on American Hospital in recent years has been due to its stronger industry position and to the fact that I have known it better and followed it more closely.

Q. "I have noticed that Madison Fund has been yielding 10 per cent or more. Would you consider it wise for a man of 67 to invest a large sum in this stock for income only?"

S. L.

A. Madison Fund is a closed-end investment company, paying dividends from two sources. A regular quarterly dividend, now at the rate of 62 cents a year, is declared from investment income. A dividend from capital gains is paid annually in the first quarter. This dividend fluctuates and cannot be regarded as fixed for any particular year. The yield from combined sources of income has varied tively high for some time past. I consider Madison well managed, but I would not put more than a moderate portion of assets in this or any other variable yield situation.

Mortgage Market A Little Better During February

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home buyers found the mortgage market a little more encouraging in February, the second straight month mortgage interest rates have edged downward.

The Federal Housing Administration reported Monday the average interest rate for conventional mortgages on new homes on March 1 was 6.5 per cent; it had been 6.6 per cent a month earlier.

On existing homes, FHA said, the rate slid from 6.65 to 6.55 per cent.

Although the trend indicates a loosening of the tight money market, the rates are still well above March 1966 levels, when conventional new home mortgages were averaging 6.05 per cent and those for existing homes were averaging 6.1.

TWA's February Income Given

NEW YORK — James J. Kerley, senior vice president — finance of TWA, has announced preliminary estimates indicate that in February TWA's operating revenues will total approximately $51.2 million, as compared with February 1966 revenues of $46,991,000.

TWA's present estimates also indicate that pre-tax loss in February will total approximately 9.9 million and net loss, after allowing for applicable tax credits will total approximately $6.4 million, as compared with a pre-tax loss of $3,765,000, and a net loss of $2,274,000 incurred for February 1966.

Wildcat Strike Holds Car Sales

DETROIT — Cadillac new car sales for the first 10 days of March were 5,132, according to Fred T. Hopkins, general sales manager of Cadillac Motor Car division.

"A year ago Cadillac domestic deliveries totaled 5,841 during March 1-10, a record for the period," Hopkins said. "However, the full impact of the Mansfield, Ohio, wildcat strike which curtailed Cadillac production for more than a week, is now being felt at the dealer level.

Charter Airline Reports '66 Net

OAKLAND—Record revenues and earnings of World Airways, Inc., for the year 1966, including an 82 per cent rise in commercial revenues, have been announced by Edward J. Daly, president of the international charter airline.

Gross revenues for the year rose 50.2 per cent to $50,074,769 from $33,341,274 in 1965. Net income for the year increased to $9,380,377, equal to $1.88 per share, compared with $6,932,214, or $1.39 per share for 1965.

Irregular Session For Stock Market

The averages and statistics still showed a slight tendency toward the downside. The key stocks and market wheelhorses were a mixture of small in and losses.

Among heavily traded issues, low-priced Atlas Corp. was the apparent volume leader and it showed a fractional gain.

IBM was down about 5 points in late dealings.

Cash flowed into an assortment of favorites which made a splashy showing late in the session.

Burroughs slipped about 3 points and Studebaker more than a point in active dealings. Scientific Data and United Nuclear were briskly traded 1-point gainers.

Up 2 points or so in less active trading were Eastern Air Lines, and Zenith. IBM dropped 3.

Gains of a point or more scored by Goodrich, Caterpillar, General Foods and U.S. Smelting.

The American Stock Exchange also was mixed.

Livestock Still Marin's Leader In Agriculture

The livestock industry continues to hold its lead in the total gross agricultural value of the county.

In his annual "Livestock and Agricultural Crop Report" for Marin, County Agricultural Commissioner Richard T. Straw listed $12,036,010 as the gross agricultural value of the combined livestock and poultry industry — approximately 90 per cent of the county's total of $13,262,110. Both figures were up slightly from 1965, when livestock and poultry valued out at $11,428,640 and the grand total at $12,673,340.

Approximately 73 per cent, or $9,430,000, represented milk production. This compared with $8,912,000 in 1965 — a gain of 3,750 tons. Egg production was up from $175,000 in 1965 to $206,000 in 1966.

Straw said 1966 was a poor pasture year, with resulting high hay prices lessening the net income. Harvested acreage of all field crops and pasture covered 162,300 acres, down 1,175 acres from the year before. Dollars value dropped from $741,000 to $702,000.

Though cattle production dropped from 19,700 to 19,000 head, dollar value increased from $1,605,000 to $1,667,000 due to higher prices. Lambs, hens and fryers increased in numbers and dollar value. Hogs and pigs showed no increase in numbers but gained slightly in dollar value because of a $3.10 per hundredweight price increase.

Fruits and nuts harvested from 50 acres in 1955 and 55 acres in 1966, valued out at $10,000 and $11,000 respectively. Vegetables were down to $5,400 in 1966, against $7,300 in 1965, due to about one-third less acreage harvested.

Nursery crops increased from $486,000 to $508,700, with gains in cut plants, herbaceous perennials and bedding plants and decreases in ornamental trees and shrubs, succulents and orchids.

Expo 67 Gold Pieces Outlawed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government bemoans the drain of U.S. gold to foreign countries — but don't think that means it wants travelers abroad to bring gold home.

The Treasury Department said yesterday that visitors to Canada's Expo 67 will be prohibited from returning with $20 Canadian gold pieces that will be sold at the Montreal exposition.

The Treasury also said it will ask Congress for permission to stop paying off silver certificate paper money in actual silver. The reason: a dwindling supply of the precious metal.

Merchants Meeting

FRED F. ENEMARK, executive vice president of Marin County Savings and Loan Association, has been appointed to the management committee of the United States Savings and Loan League which studies methods for improving management procedures and association operating routines.

REAL ESTATE. Troussdale Construction Co. plans to develop 1,300 lots for single family homes in the hills of the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates, Ignacio. Lots will have a minimum of 10,000 square feet . . . Milland Development Co. has sold over 20 acres in the Harbor Point area of Strawberry to Martell J. and Raymond Kaliski, real estate and motion picture theater operators, and Vladimir J. Turski, an engineer. The parcel contains a club site of five acres, to be expanded to 7 or 10 acres. Some 200 garden apartments are planned for the balance of the property.

NEWLY APPOINTED as assistant head of the Timeplan department of Bank of America's San Rafael office is Harold S. Arneson from Chico. He replaces Roger Pulley, who recently moved to the credit department at the San Francisco head office. Arneson joined the bank in 1962 in Southern California and served in several offices in that area. He has been in Chico since 1965, recently on the administration service staff.

BANK OF AMERICA'S Mill Valley office has a new operations officer in Thomas M. Quigg of San Rafael, succeeding Jay Smalridge who has been transferred to Napa. Quigg joined Bank of America in 1962 in San Francisco and has served in San Rafael and Napa, and since early last year as operations officer in Larkspur.

Sullivan Probert

NEW ASSISTANT MANAGER at Wells Fargo Bank's San Rafael office is Jeremiah V. Sullivan, succeeding Warren M. Crawford Jr., who has been appointed assistant vice president and assistant manager of the San Mateo office.

MOTORCRAFT. H. B. Probert of Hil Probert Motors, Larkspur, poineer Toyota dealer in Northern California, was an honored guest at the recent dedication ceremonies of Toyota Motor's U. S. national headquarters complex and West Coast master parts depot in Torrance. Probert was demonstrating the Toyota Land Crusier on the steep slopes of Mt. Tamalpais when there were only a handful of dealers on the West Coast. . . . The Golden Shovel Award of Ford Motor Co. has been presented to partners Ernie Joe and Herman Boldetti for business community leadership in the construction of their 24,000-square foot modern J and B Ford Sales dealership on Paradise Drive, Corte aders in 1965.

RCA Entering Education Field Via Computers

PALO ALTO (UPI) — The Radio Corporation of America had entered full-scale into the field of computer-based instruction with the formation of its RCA Instructional Systems.

RCA President Robert Sarnoff said yesterday the new division, based in Palo Alto, will coordinate with Stanford University educators.

The new technology will integrate computers, communications channels and display terminals into a system geared to teach the student as an individual, Sarnoff said.

Random House Inc., and L.W. Singer Co., its educational subsidiary, will also participate in the project.

Daylight Time Arguments

Still An An Issue Everywhere

By DAVID R. HOLDEN

CHICAGO (AP) — In Georgia, a legislator protested that going on Daylight Saving Time would disconcert the chickens.

In Iowa, a rural type declared that pushing the clock ahead would soften up the younger generation for communism.

The governor of Kentucky doesn't dare venture out of the state. If he does, the lieutenant governor has promised to call a special legislative session to put Kentucky on Standard Time by law.

In Indiana, the legislature decreed that in each public building one clock — designated "official" — must be on Daylight Saving Time. Otherwise every Indiana community can decide for itself what kind of time it wants.

And then there's Alaska, where the situation is too confused to bear thinking of. Why? Because Alaska has no fewer than four time zones, that's why.

Such is the chaos brought about by the Uniform Time Act which Congress passed last year.

Under the act, all parts of every state must observe Daylight Saving Time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October — unless the state legislature passes a law decreeing the statewide use of Standard Time.

In states divided by two time zones it was often the practice in the past to let the eastern part remain unchanged while the western zone adopted DST to give the state a uniform summer time. Such manipulations are forbidden by the new federal statute.

States lying in two zones — such as Kansas, Indiana, Idaho, Nevada, Nebraska, Florida, Texas, Tennessee, Michigan, Kentucky, North and South Dakota —may have difficulty adjusting their time policies.

Opposition to compliance in Iowa, Arkansas and Minnesota does not appear likely to prevail. The bills in Hawaii and Texas appear sure of passage.

The strength of forces for and against DST in the other legislatures cannot be determined since they have not convened or the bills are still in the initial stages.

A major battle seems certain in Georgia where the time controversy could reach fever pitch.

The primary opposition comes from rural areas, where residents claim late sunrises hamper farm work; outdoor theater owners, who contend late sunsets hurt their business and parents who said DST will result in additional days on which their children will leave for school in the dark.

Proponents of DST are usually from urban areas where pushing the clock ahead gives industrial workers and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. office workers an extra hour of sunshine for after work recreation.

Businessmen in rural states argue DST would put them out of phase with the farming community.

Brokerage firms, businesses with nationwide operations or connections and radio and television network affiliates want DST to keep pace with New York, Los Angeles and other major cities.

"I don't think our legislators will vote to go on Daylight Time," said William Williams, a member of the Georgia Legislature. "Our chickens are accustomed to Standard Time and we don't want to confuse the chickens."

Hugh Vail, member of an antidaylight delegation, told Iowa Gov. Harold E. Hughes:

"A child gets up in the morning under Daylight Time and cries because he lost an hour of sleep. These school children are so worn out and their nerves are so busted they have to have drugs. Then when communism comes along, what are we going to do?"

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky seeks exemption from the law until 1968 when the legislature meets in its next regular session.

Bills to switch to DST are being considered in Wyoming, South Carolina and Nebraska, which previously retained Standard Time the year around.

Alaska now has four zones, Pacific, Yukon, Alaska and Bering. It may ask federal permission to reorganize under three zones, eliminating the Pacific.

Another plan would keep all four zones but put the Pacific zone on DST to keep in line with Pacific Coast states.

CLOCK-A-DOODLE-CUCKOO—To have or not to have daylight saving time. Cartoon by Associated Press artist Mack Elcik illustrates the controversy in Georgia where a legislator protested that going on daylight time would disconcert the chickens.

Strategic Reserve Subject Of Conclave

The new role of the strategic reserve will be the highlight of the Continental Air Command commanders' conference tomorrow in conjunction with the Air Force Association national convention in San Francisco, said Col. Charles M. Walton Jr., project officer of the Sixth Reserve Region at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Hamilton is host base for the arrivals, departures and arrangements of the convention, Colonel Walton said. The commanders of 114 Air Force reserve units throughout the country are expected at the convention.

Probe Shows Water Heater Fire Cause

A defective water heater caused the fire that destroyed the John W. Azevedo residence near Tomales last week, County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom declared today after an investigation.

However, Mr. and Mrs. Azevedo said the water heater did not explode, as initially reported by Bloom.

The Azevedos, and their nearest neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vanoni, yesterday cleared up confusion over reporting of the fire.

Chief Bloom last Wednesday said apparently there was delay in telephoning the fire department after Mrs. Azevedo reached the Vanoni home, about a half mile from the blazing house. He based this on the fact that the first report was turned in at the Tomales fire house by Mrs. David Burbank.

However, the parties involved explained that when she discovered the fire, Mrs. Azevedo began walking and running to the Vanoni residence. En route, she saw Mrs. Burbank in her car, and informed her the house was on fire. Mrs. Burbank drove straight to the Tomales fire house two miles away, reaching there before Mrs. Azevedo reached the Vanoni home afoot. Mrs. Vanoni telephoned the alarm immediately upon Mrs. Azevedo's arrival there.

Dark Bourbon:

This is dark, deep-flavored Bourbon.
Bourbon that leaves a good rich cling on the side of your glass. And a nice round taste in your mouth.
This is Bourbon the way it used to be. Prime copper-stilled whiskey.
Fixed with lots of handwork. And nothing but pure, fresh goods. With more of the small grains. And a sour mash that goes back more than 75 years.
This is slow-cooked Bourbon. Aged till it's darker in color. And deeper in taste. Till its youth has mellowed, and its character matured.
Hill and Hill Preferred. It isn't beginner's Bourbon.
